FOREWORD

It is not enough to live in the world without changing it. Each of us creates with the tools he has, a structure, a bridge, perhaps, which is unique, therefore beautiful.

A bridge is important because people are important. Because we are young and free to begin, we are most important of all.

To the Class of 1967, the yearbook is offered in the hope that each of us will build his own bridges.

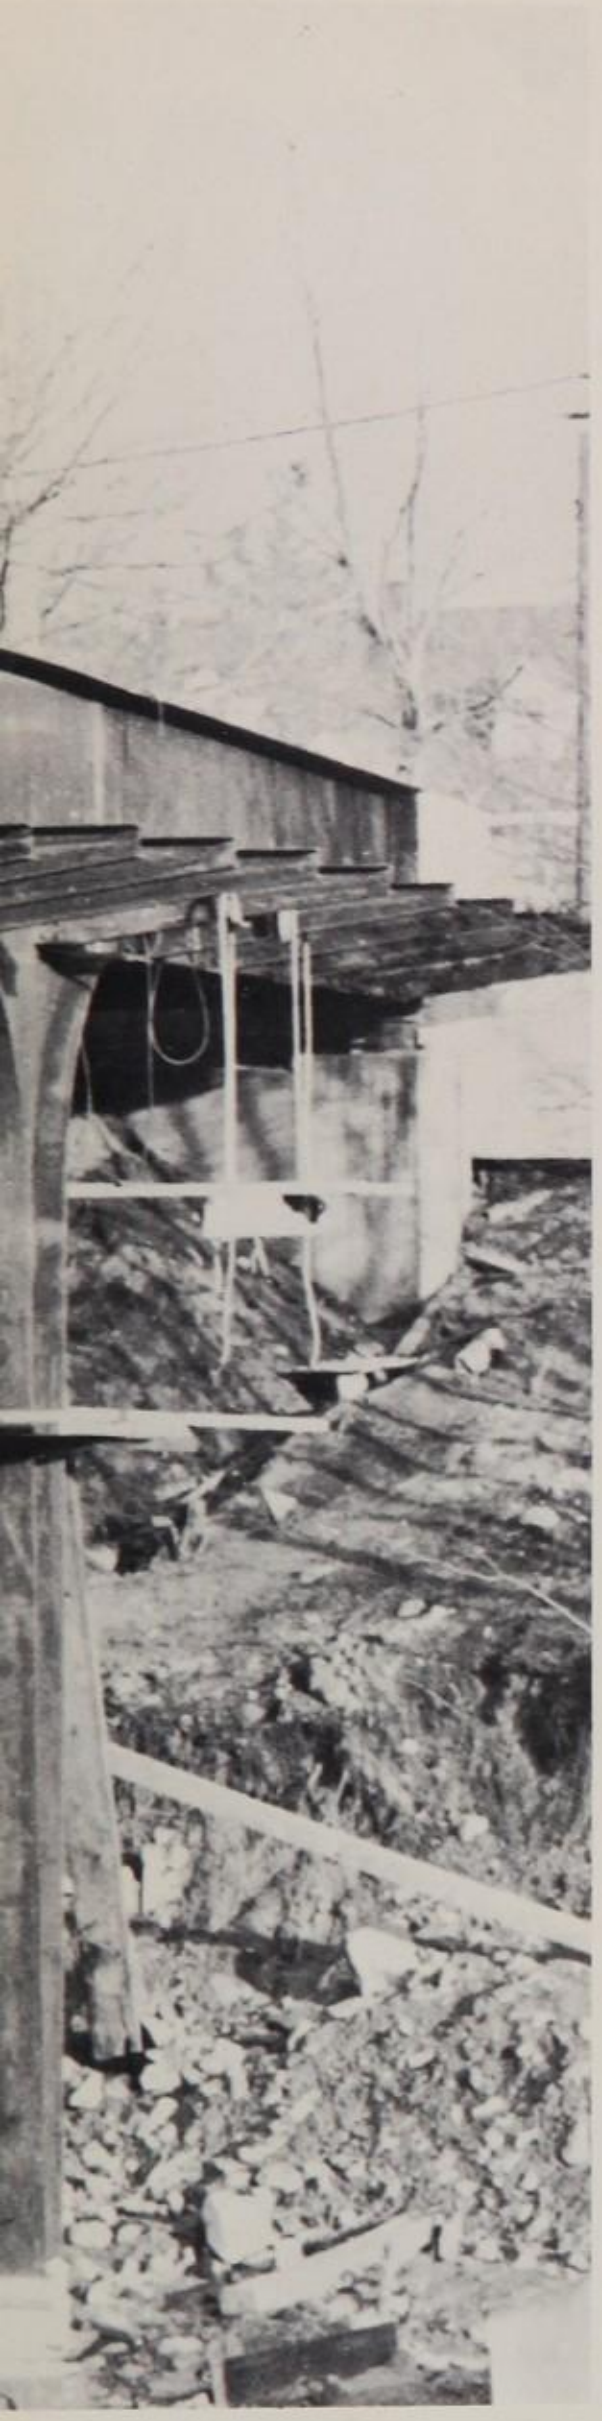
DEDICATION

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new;
And God fulfills himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

Idylls of the King

Change is the order of our lives. The best in us, the best in our world, grows, develops, reaches fulfillment, and yields not to time or age but to the innate wisdom of personality. Each must in his time pass the burden, the joy and the challenge to new hands. If the burden is weighty, the joy intense, the challenge meaningful, then the work can be carried on in the same nobility of spirit. "The old order changeth," but the new draws its strength and purpose from what has gone before.

HELEN B. HILL



FACULTY

The wise teacher is an architect and an engineer. He builds with care and love. But his constructions have lives of their own and he cannot tamper with their essential symmetry. In the end his greatest fulfillment must be the knowledge that his students' bridges will stand by themselves, and go where he has never gone.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

SENIORS

The diversity of our thoughts and actions fuses in a common educational experience. But we find our own truth and beauty in the world. No other has meaning.

We are young. The world waits for us. It is time to live, and the great adventure is just beginning.

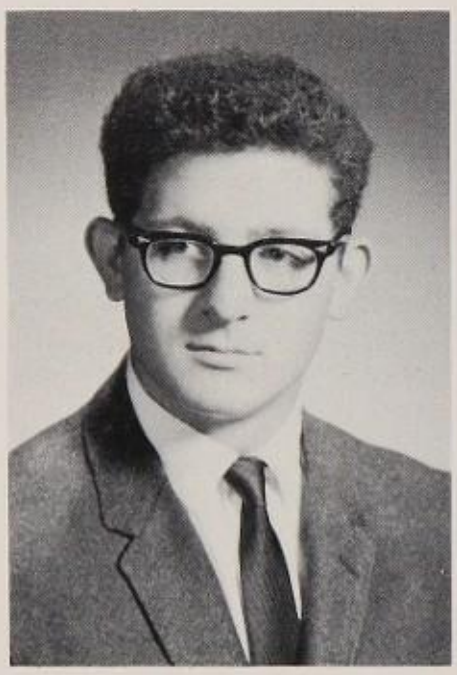
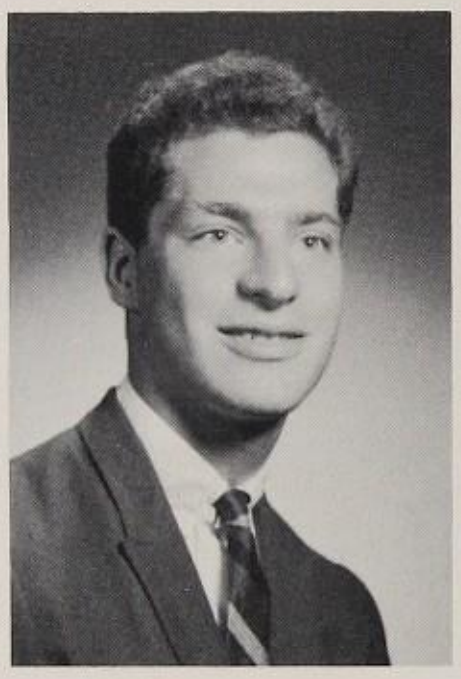
Gail Abel

And I have good faith that will yield to none, and ways without reproach, and unadorned simplicity, and blushing modesty.



David B. Ackerman

Acts with decision, opposes with firmness, yields with graciousness.



Mark E. Ackerman

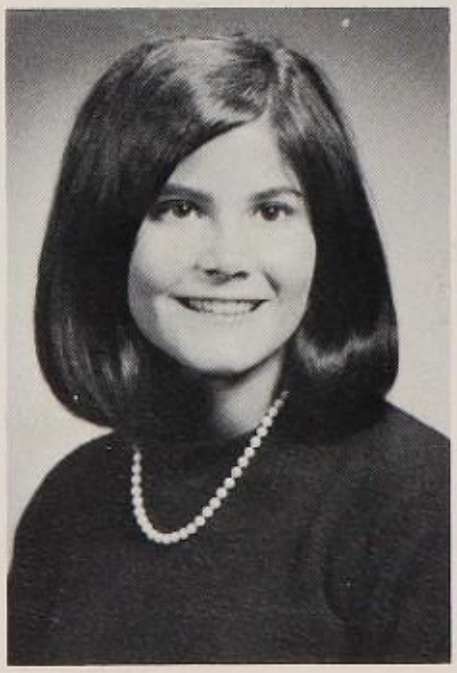
In life's morning march, when my heart was young.

Andrea L. Adler

Feeling all sunny and careless . . . a little consideration, a little thought for others, makes all the difference.

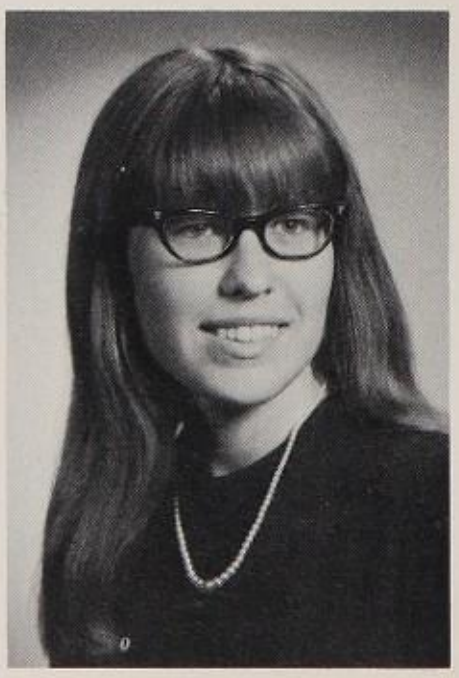
Kenneth P. Agnor

But he who waited
While the rest
Expend their inmost pound,
Of this man I am wary—
I fear that he is grand.



Barbara Allar

To be born with beauty of countenance is sheer luck,
To develop beauty of spirit is sheer wisdom.

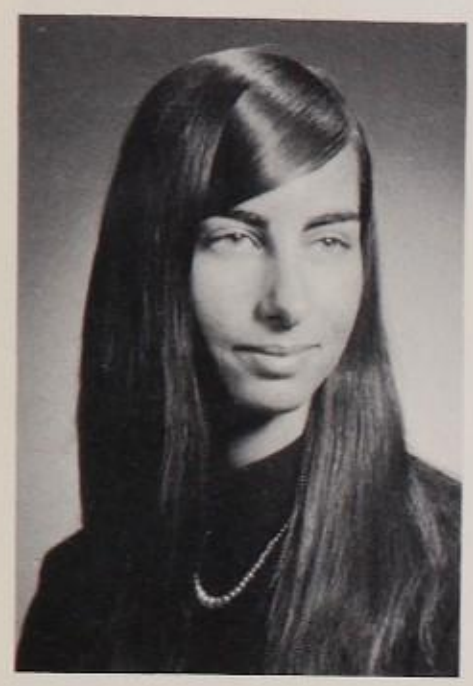


Lillian A. Altmann

Forever is composed of Nows.

Karen Alberg

There is no prize more coveted than gaiety and the love of friends.



Jane E. Altshuler

Happy is she who can show signs of inward grace.

James A. Anderson

I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart had joy of all my labor; and this was my portion from all my labor.

Laurel S. Anderson

A perfect woman nobly planned.

Wallston Y. Addnher

All bright and gold in his hair
He who is young and fair.

Robert S. Anzilotti

His spirit is his greatest gift.

Manuel H. Armesto

The heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute.

Jackie J. Aromanto

Beauty is eternity gazing at itself in a mirror.
But you are eternity and you are the mirror.

Nancy J. Asadorian

A friendly face is a silent commendation.

Robert A. Asanio

The soul of man is larger than the sky
Deeper than the ocean, or the abysmal dark
Of the unfathomed center.

Steven W. Atkins

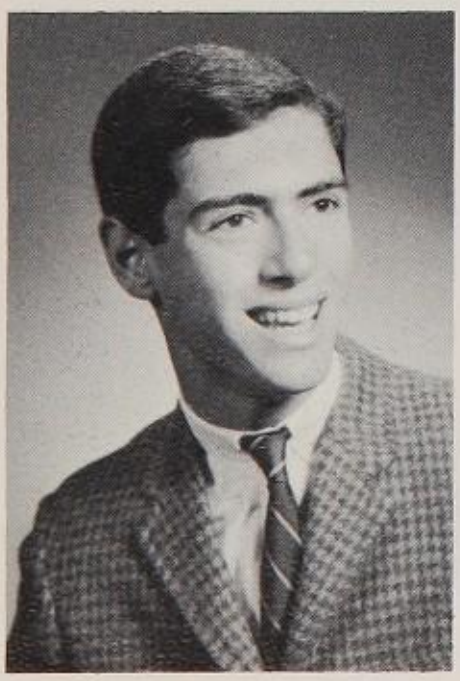
Where strength and fairness meet in a man.

Sheryl L. Atkinson

Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.

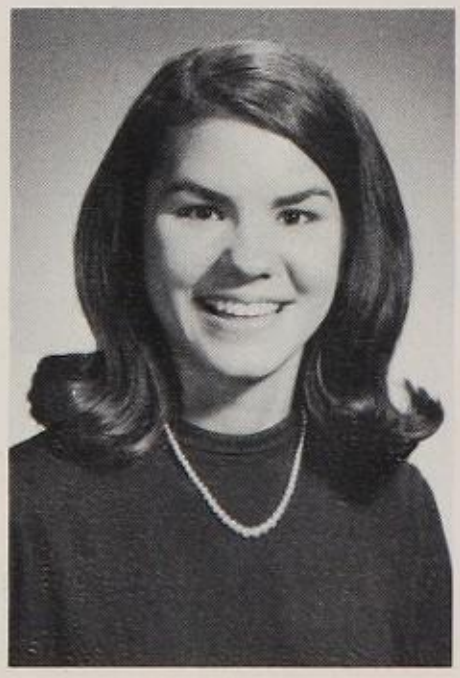
Sanford Auerbach

Ambition is heaven's own incentive to make purpose great and achievement greater.



Robert M. Austin

There is no art or science that is too difficult for the industrious man.



Karen M. Babinowich

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you do well, and doing well whatever you do without thought of fame.

Marvin J. Babyatsky

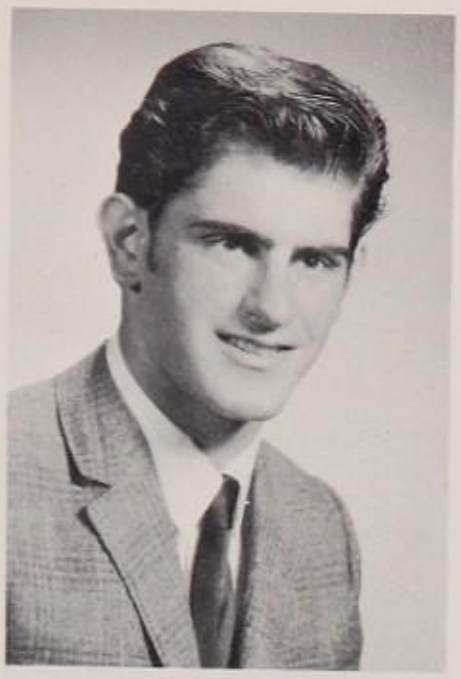
Sincerity is a virtue, mirth a blessing, together, a man.

Geraldine A. Badrow

All who have joy must share it—
Happiness was born a twin.

Murray R. Bakst

Strength of character and physique,
A noble heart, a man unique.



Michel R. Balian

Sincerity is not . . . a moral choice between honesty and dishonesty. It is mainly an affair of talent which comes naturally.

Richard M. Barudin

In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength.

Steven M. Baskin

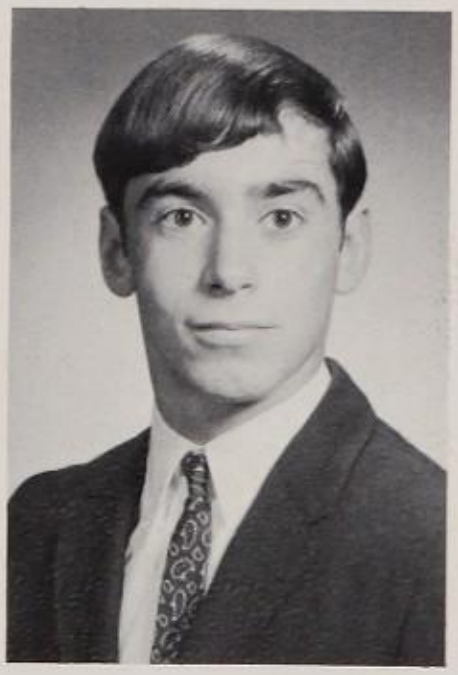
Men never get beaten where they have the brains, the initiative, the skills, and the knowledge, and in turn, can apply them.

Nancy L. Bauer

A graceful woman, proud in heart and mind.

Ernest M. Baum

If studies interfere with pleasure, follow your instincts!



Robert D. Beck

The joy of life is to put out one's power in a natural and useful way.

Mary A. Becker

She has her pleasures, her style of wit, and her own ways.

Barbara Bedick

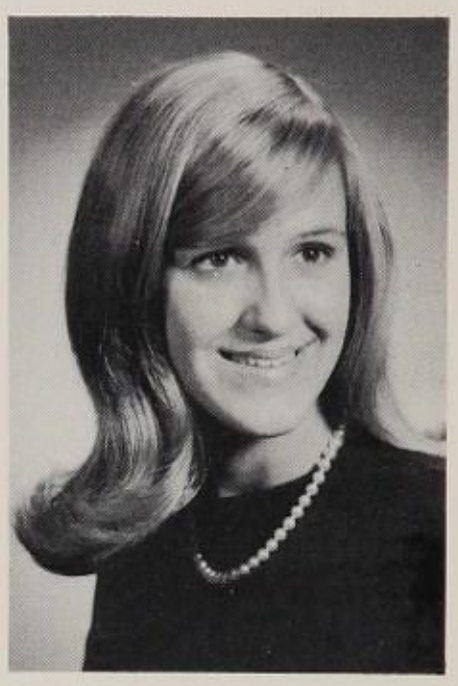
She sat like patience on a monument, smiling at grief.

Barbara Begendorf

The bubble winked at me and said,
You'll miss me brother, when you're dead.

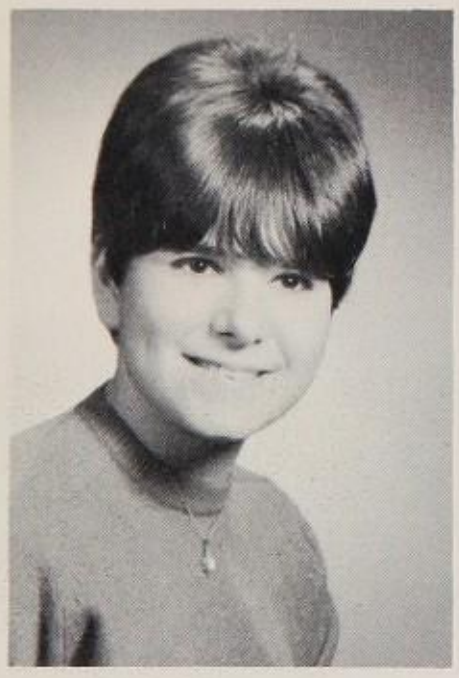
Bernadette Bennet

Come good friend, with your laughter you brighten our lives.



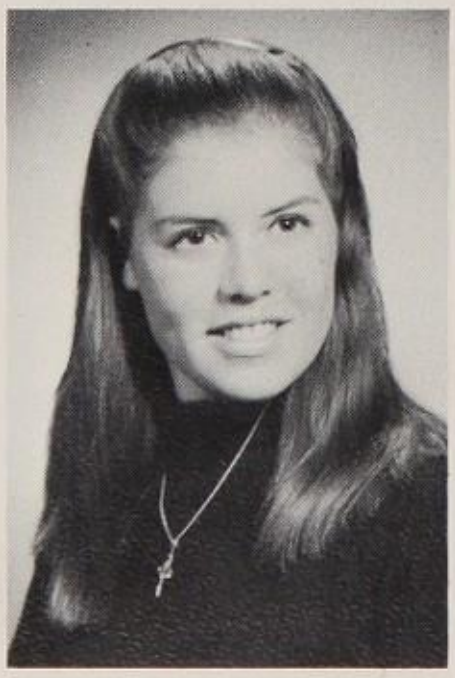
Clair M. Benson

It's no matter what you do, if your heart be only true.



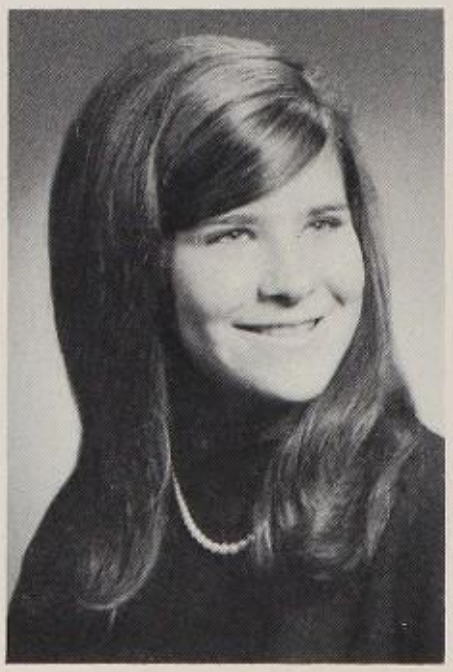
Ilene A. Berg

Never lose your illusions— for if you do, you may still exist but you have ceased to live.



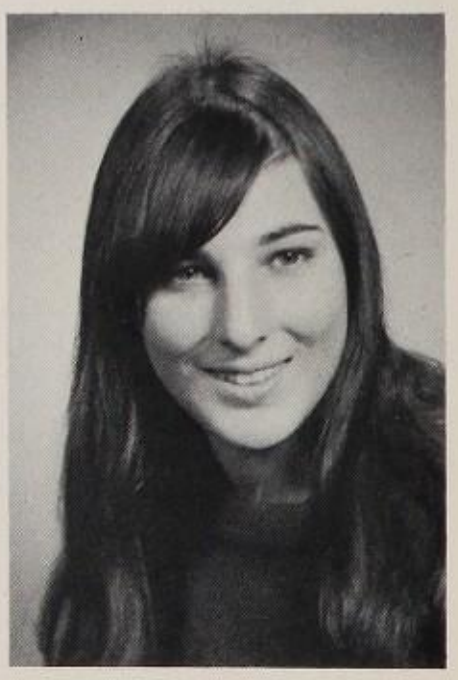
Ellen L. Berger

A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent.



Joan L. Bergman

Wherefore waste our elocution on impossible solutions?
Life's a pleasant institution, so take it as it comes.



Laurel R. Bergold

Silhouetted by the sea,
Circled by the circus sand,
Driven deep beneath the waves,
May I forget about today until tomorrow.

Alan G. Bernstein

A pleasing combination of friendliness and good humor makes him a welcome companion.

Peggy C. Bier

When one speaks or acts with good intentions then happiness follows like a shadow.

Ralph J. Binder

'Tis easy enough to be pleasant
When life flows along like a song;
But the man worthwhile is the one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.

Lucy A. Binn

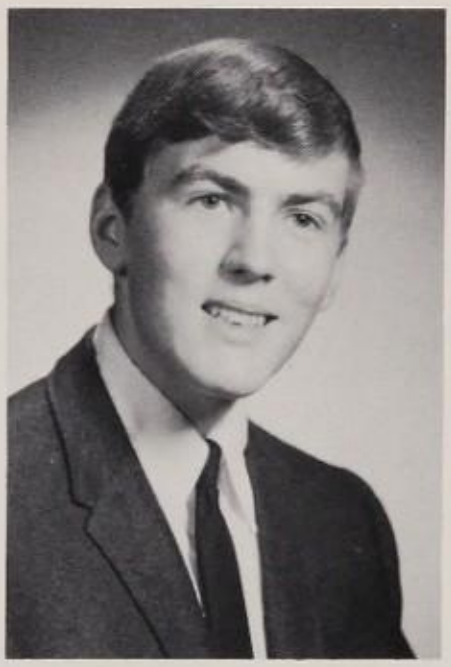
Pleasant . . . to think on.

Stuart Birnbaum

Happiness is a spirit of sunshine.
Its warmth lies in making others happy and thus being well-loved by all.

Annette Black

Zounds! I was never so bethump'd with words . . .



Cameron Blaikie

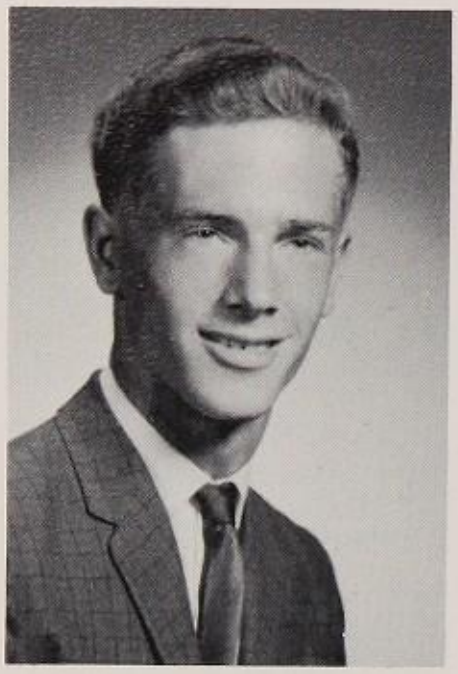
I'm just as big for me, said he, as you are big for you.

Arline H. Blake

Humor springs from harmony of mind and heart;
She who uses it well, can it to you impart.

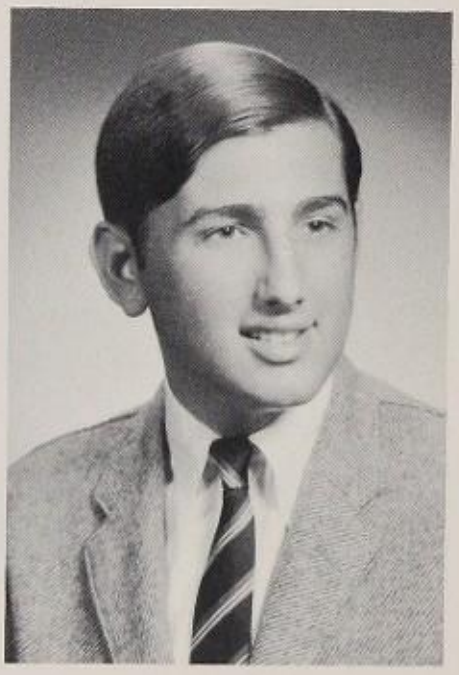
Carol H. Bloom

Happiness is the wine of the rarest vintage.
Drink of the joys of life.



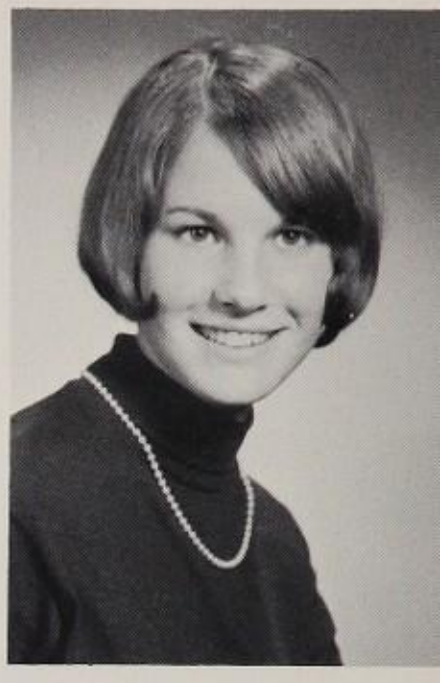
William W. Bloom

Whatever you do, for whatever reason, is certainly to the point.



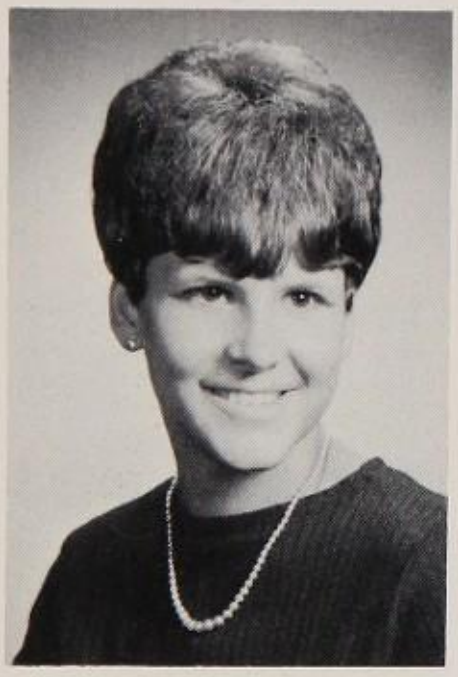
Alan J. Blumenthal

I am proud that my tongue can utter those thoughts that arise in me.



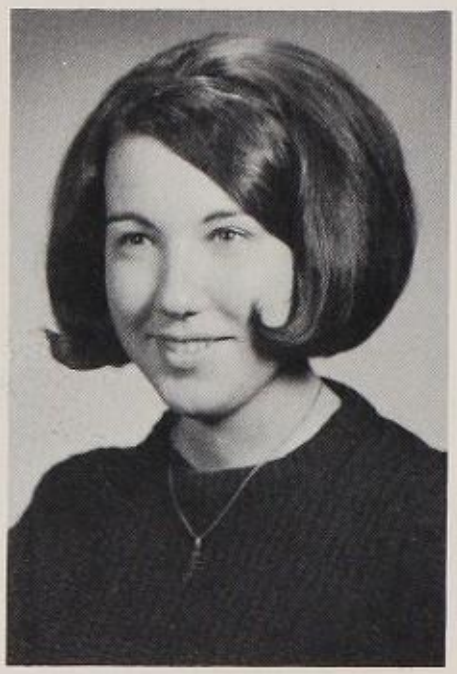
June E. Bodansky

. . . That smile of impetuous youth.



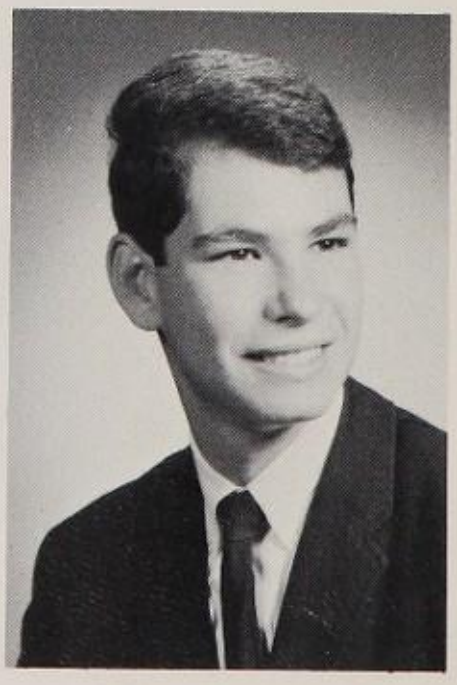
Janice L. Boemo

Love is a circle that doth restless move
In the same sweet eternity of love.



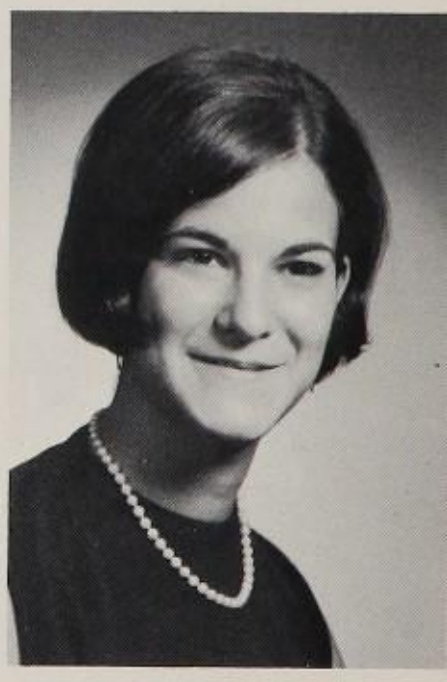
Annemarie I. Boggild

How good is . . . life, the mere living! How fit to employ all the heart and the soul and the senses forever in joy.



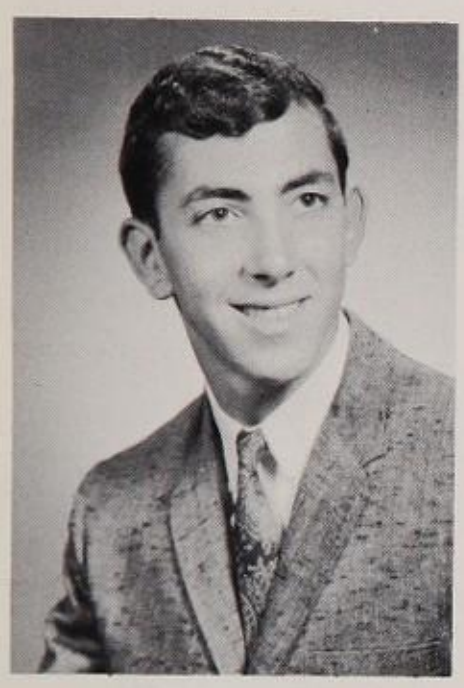
Jeffrey P. Bolson

Happy the man and happy he alone,
He who can call today his own;
He who secure within, can say,
Tomorrow do thy worst for I have lived today.



Page Bolson

That which is striking and beautiful is always good.

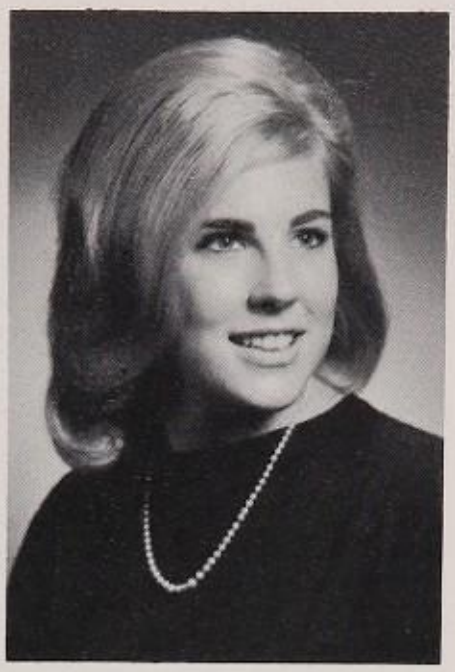


Burton F. Boltuch

It is not what he has, nor even what he does, which expresses the worth of a man, but what he is.

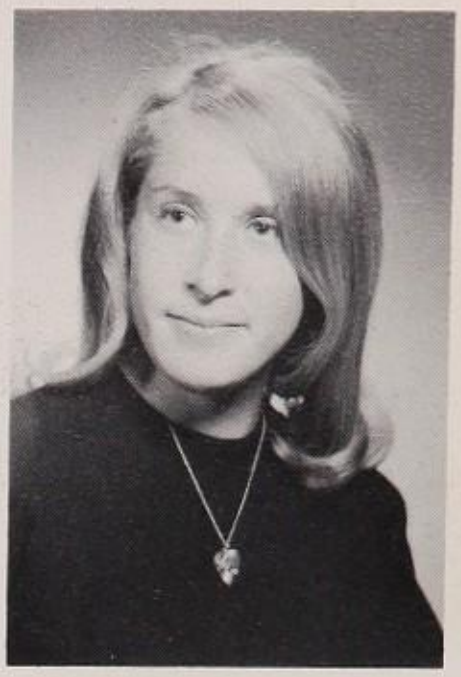
Paul E. Bonasera

He was very good company, and of a very ready and pleasant and smooth wit.



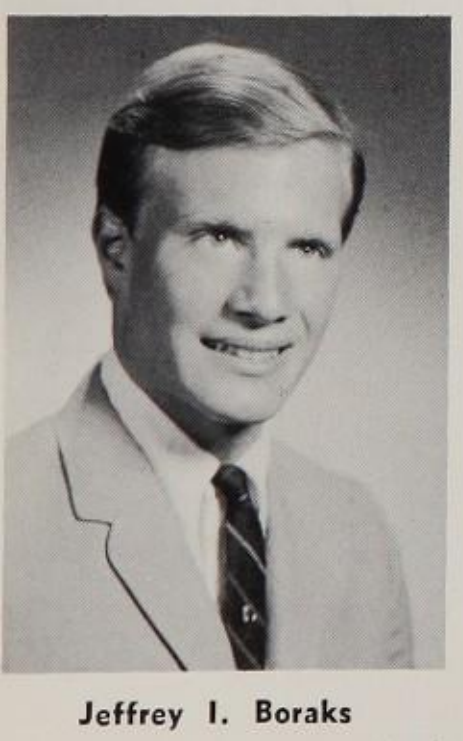
Patricia Bondesen

To live we must have the courage to be happy.



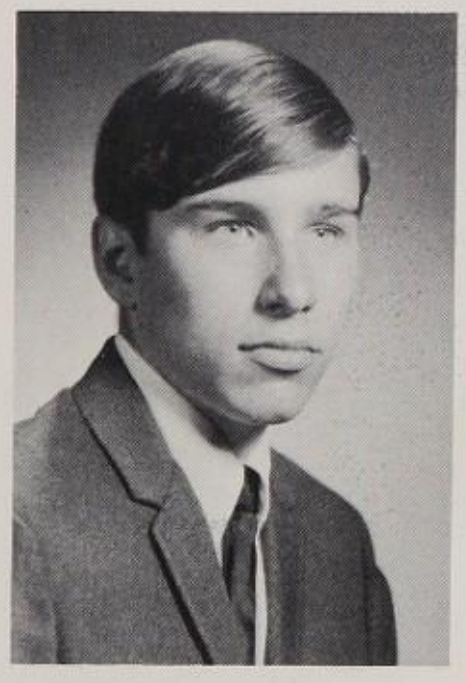
Maxine L. Booth

The pursuit of unattainable perfection, even though it consists of nothing more than pounding an old piano, is what alone gives meaning to our life on this unavailing star.



Jeffrey I. Boraks

Here is one who can find humor in any situation.



George P. Bott

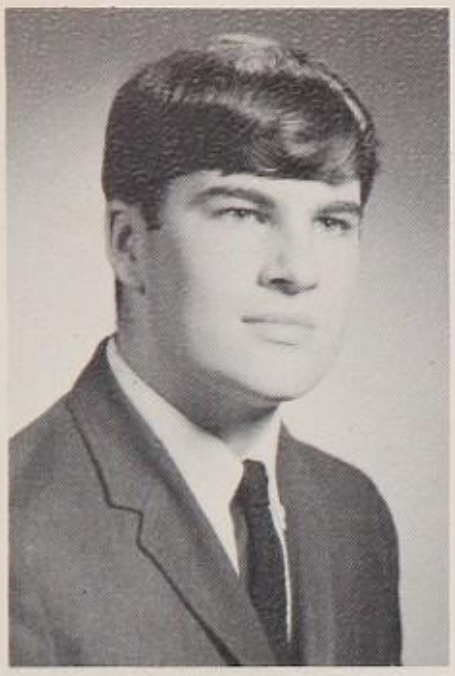
Youth's the season made for joys,
Love is then our duty.

Julia M. Bottari

A thing of beauty is a joy forever.

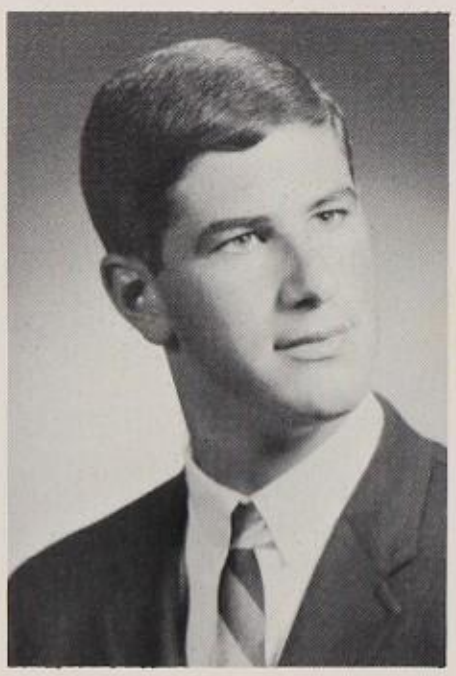
Valerie Boyajian

I must have no hatred or bitterness towards anyone.



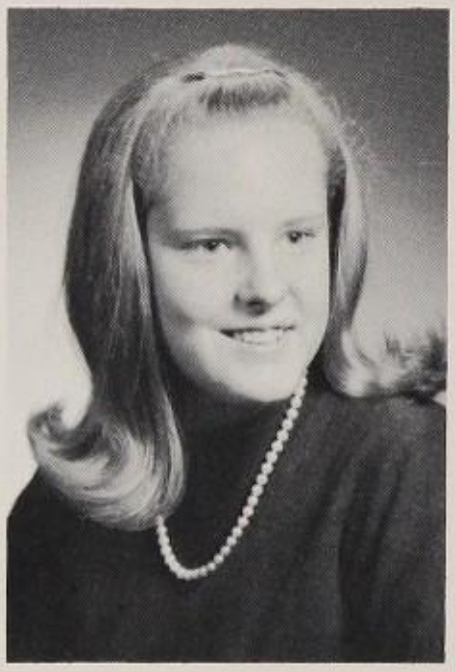
Roger Boyle

A song is more lasting than the riches of the world.



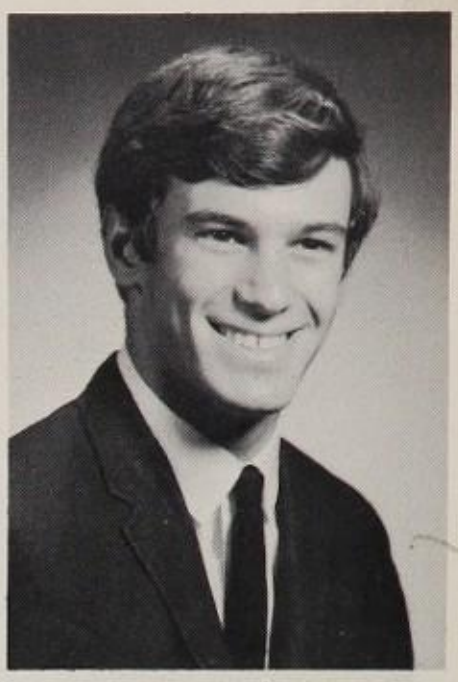
Alan Braunschweiger

To seek for the truth for the sake of knowing the truth is the noblest of objectives a man can live for.



Stephanie R. Breault

I am laughing deep inside
Hopscotch Butterscotch me.



Harry J. Brick

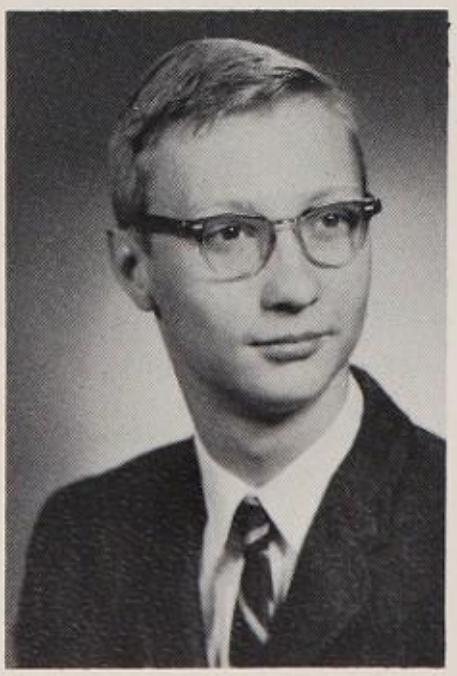
A superior man is modest in his speech, but excels in his actions.

Duane P. Brown

I have done one braver thing
Than all the Worthies did,
And yet a braver thence did spring,
Which is, to keep that hid.

Catherine Brizzi

Warmth, enthusiasm, benevolence — the characteristics of an enjoyable friend.



David A. Broadwell

If a man be gracious and courteous to strangers, it shows he is a citizen of the world.

Ellen Broverone

So many worlds, so much to do,
So little done, such things to be.

Linda M. Brown

O, to dance beneath the diamond sky, with one hand waving free.

Bertina Bryant

High erected thoughts seated in the heart of courtesy.

Rose M. Buldo

I came like water and like wind I go.

John R. Bullock

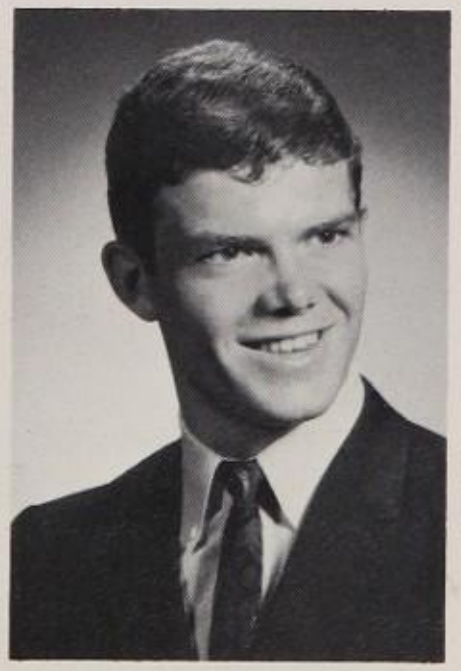
He is a good man and does good things.

Richard Burgujian

Go where he will, the wise man is at home,
His hearth the earth, his hall the azure dome.

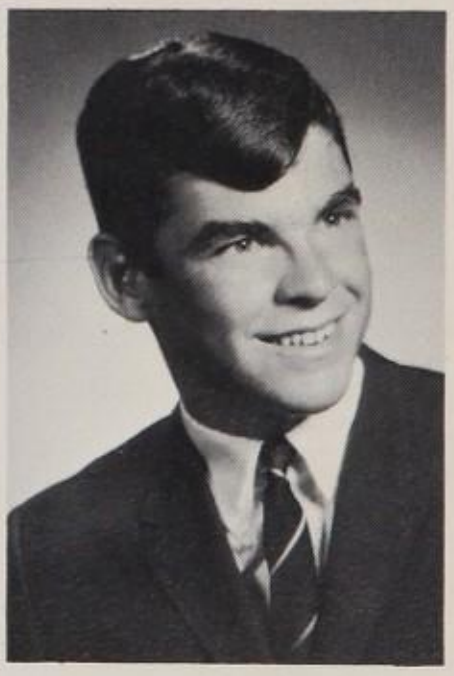
Ruth Mary Burg

True friendship is of royal lineage. It is of the same breeding as loyalty and devotion and proceeds upon a higher principle.



Harold Busund

The Viking, gallant warrior is he.



Edward W. Byrnes

There is no greater man than he who has won faith, friends, and admiration.

Tanya Caesar

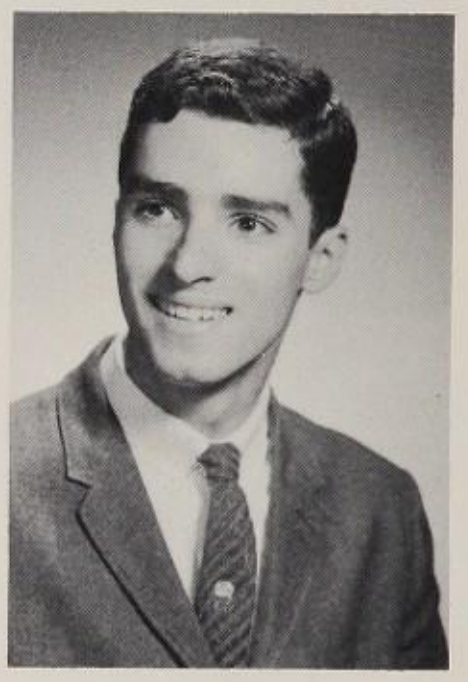
Enchantress of the stormy seas,
Priestess of Night's high mysteries.

Bruce C. Cameron

The Mind of Man — my haunt and the main region of my song.

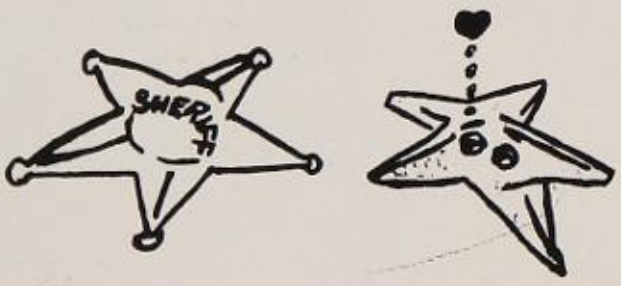
Gale D. Candaras

The spirit of man and the spirit of friendship are the most beautiful things in life.



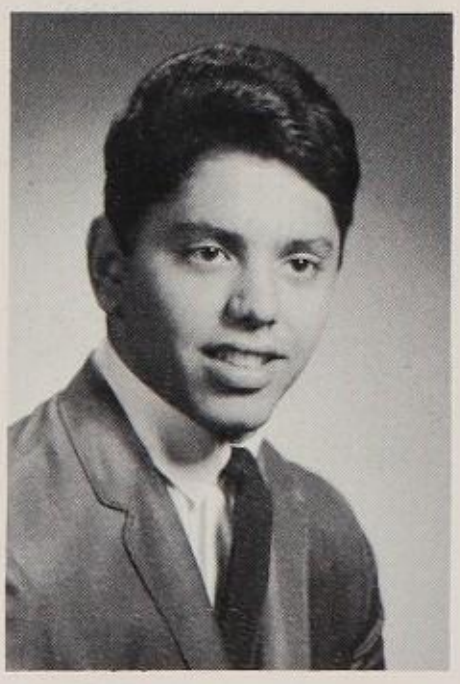
Steve E. Caplan

Education makes people easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern but impossible to enslave.



John Cappadona

Ennui, felt on the proper occasions, is a sign of intelligence.

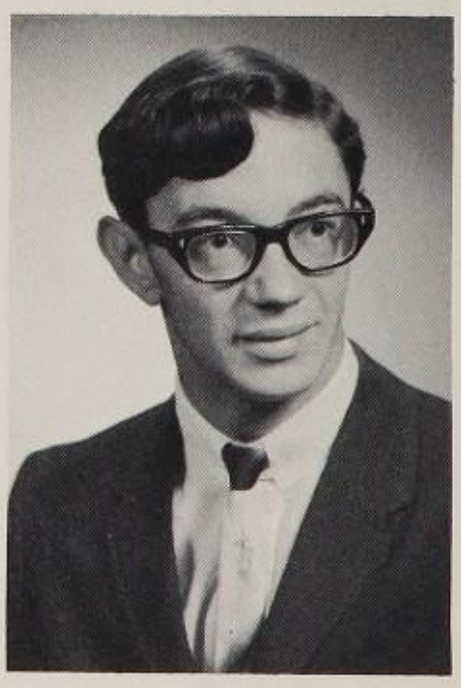


John E. Caruso

His rough exterior, manly and bold,
Tried to conceal a heart of gold.

Dennis Casselli

If he had any faults he left us in doubt.



John J. Cassiello

Prince of courage, merciful, proud and strong.

Joseph Catania

Victory at all costs, victory however long and hard the road may be.

Wilhelmina J. Cate

Good nature like a sunny day sheds cheerfulness all around.

Gary M. Chinery

Know that the simple gift of friendliness is greater than all the wisdom of the wise.

Judy P. Chromow

The song was wordless;
The singing will never be done.

Ying Young Chung

Happiness comes of the grace to accept life gratefully and make the most of it.

Warren B. Churg

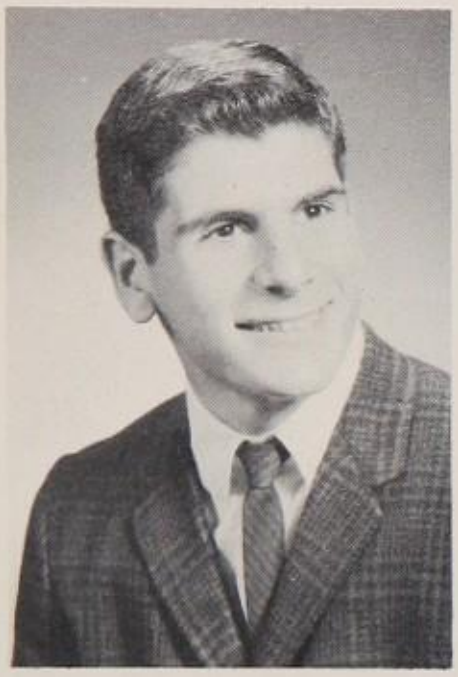
Those of culture are the true apostles of equality.

Richard P. Cincotta

Ah roadside scarecrow
We've hardly
Started gabbing
And I have to go.

Linda R. Cirelli

To be merry best becomes you, for out of question, you were born in a merry hour.

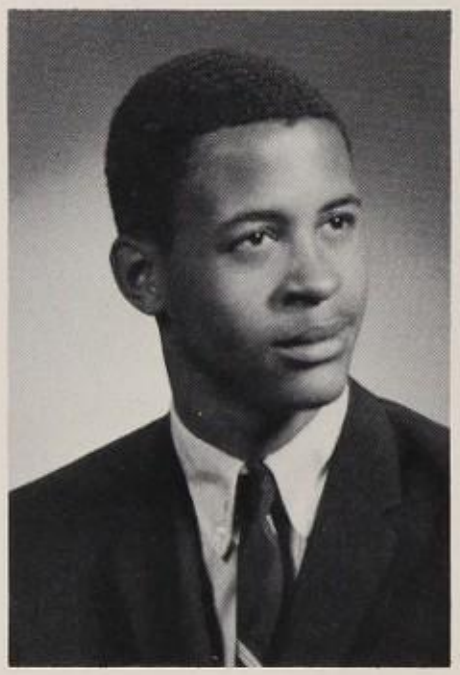


Robert Chaderchian

The jewel of knowledge is great riches which can never be stolen nor decreased by giving.

Suzanne R. Cleeren

Compared with marriage, being born is a mere episode in our lives and a trivial incident.

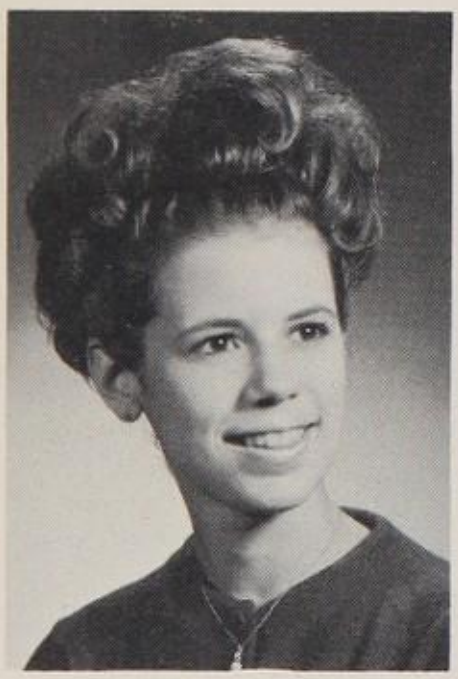


Furman Clement

I should like to rise and go where the golden apples grow.

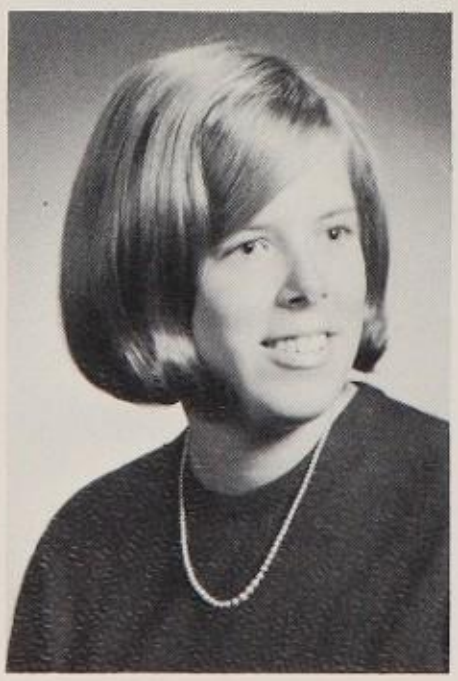
Denise M. Clermont

Marriage is womanhood's greatest adventure.



Kathryn Coe

A room without books is as a body without a soul.



Mary Joyce Coffee

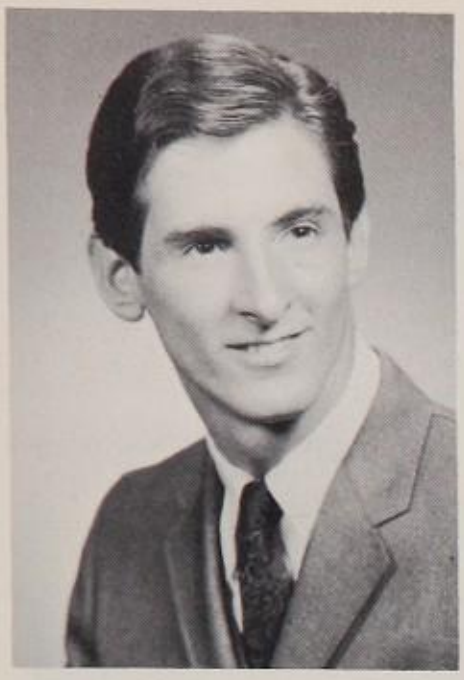
A cheerful disposition joined with sincerity and wisdom is like the light of phosphorus, seen plainly when all around is dark.

Joel R. Cohen

Heard about Tom Swift and his electric carriage? Now learn about Joel's 1903 Oldsmobile.

Ines Colella

That "certain smile" helps to make others happy.



Gerald Comis

A real man is he whose goodness is a part of himself.

Susannah M. Conklin

Life is a purple antelope on a plate of tunafish.

John J. Conolly

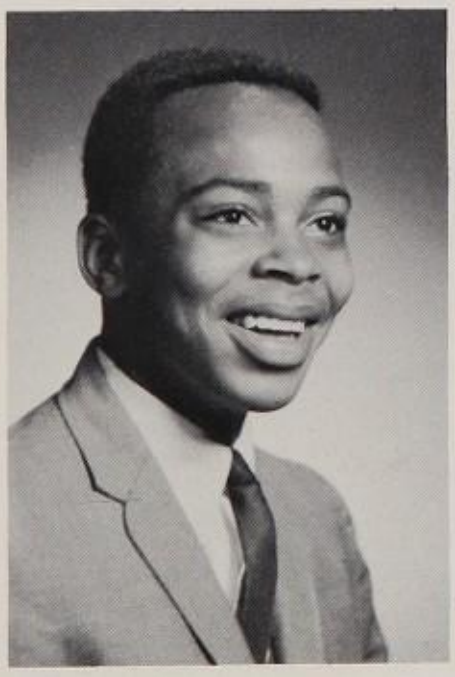
The spirit of the game and the spirit of the player are ever united.

Natalie M. Consiglio

Of manners gentle, of affections mild;
In wit an adult, enthusiasm a youth.

Ronnie M. Crews

You may charge me with murder—or want of sense
(We are all of us weak at times)
But the slightest approach to a false pretense
Was never among my crimes.

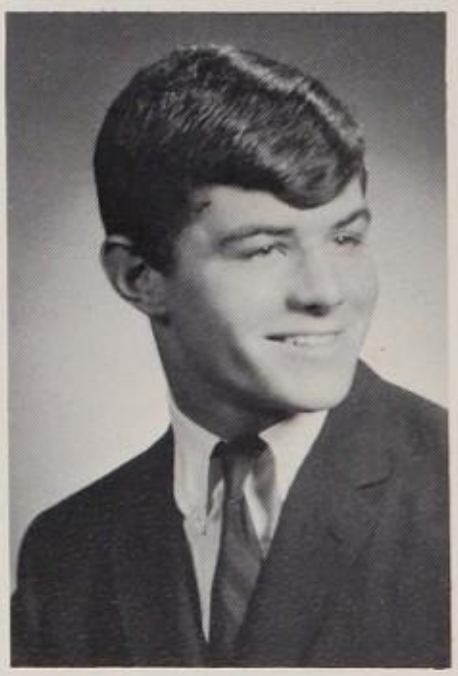


Clifton Cox

Youth with swift feet, walks onward in the way; the land of joy lies all before his eyes.

Linda R. Daniels

Initiative is one of the most permanent and certain characteristics of a rigorous mind.

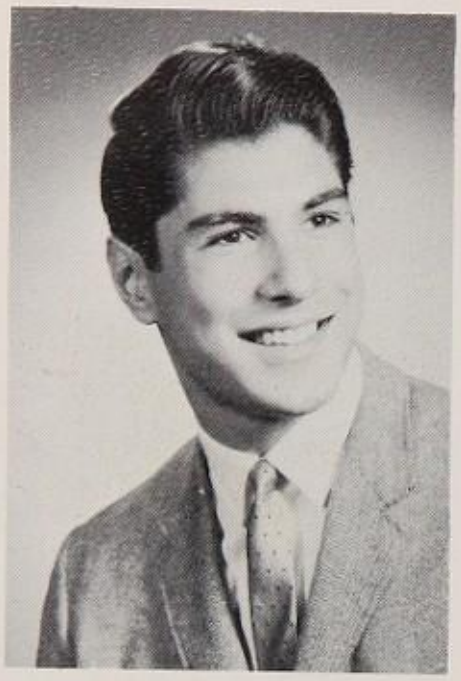


Brian C. Darby

Indisputably, a good, handsome man is the first of created things.

Coryn Darrell

I'm very, very glad that I am what I am.



Andrew D. Daspin

Never be afraid to know the world and let it know you.

Carol L. Davis

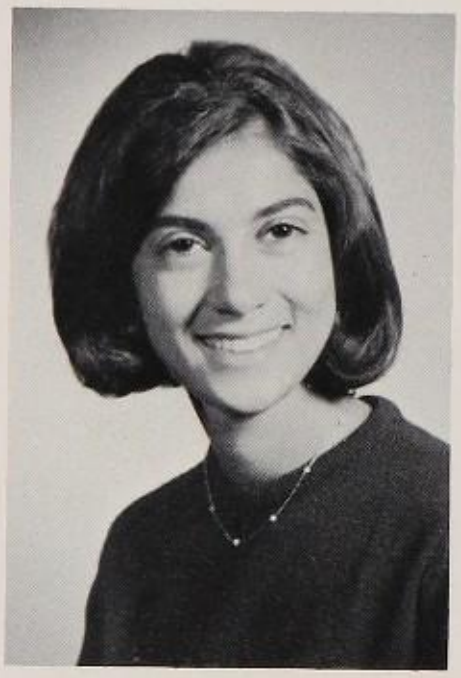
Oh fair maid of merriment—
What riotous happening do you now plan?

Michael De Pompeo

The music in my heart I bore,
Long after it was heard no more.

Robert De Vincentis

Confidence is that feeling by which the mind embarks on great and honorable courses.

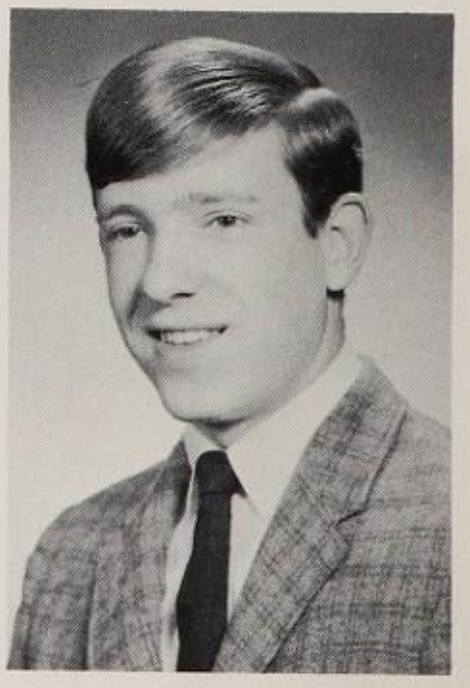


Deanna Di Bernardo

'Tis enthusiasm that keeps the world spinning.

Linda Di Corcia

A friend may well be reckoned the masterpiece of nature.



Lawrence D. Diehl

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom
And the man that obtaineth understanding;
For the merchandise of it is better than that of silver,
And the gain thereof than fine gold.

Mark A. Dilorio

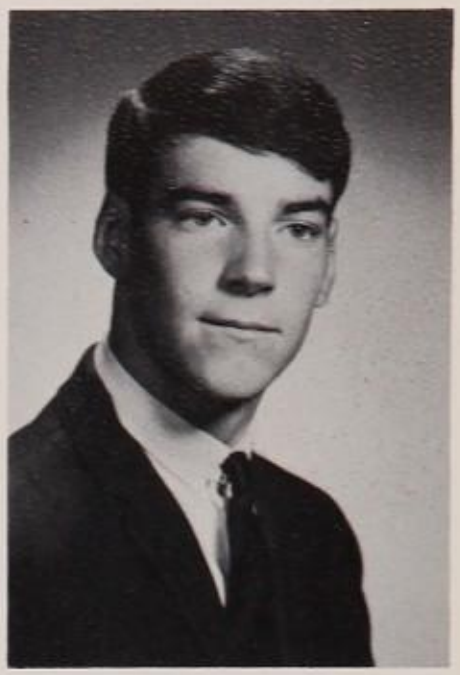
By happy alchemy of mind
He turns to pleasure all he finds.

Robert M. Dinkjian

Not always the one with the loudest ring,
Has the greatest message to bring.

Dorothy D. Disanza

What will not woman, gentle woman dare,
When strong affection stirs her spirit up?



Ernest M. Doherty

Great things are done when men and mountains meet;
This is not done by jostling in the street.

Kathryn A. Donahue

She that does good for good's sake, seeks neither praise nor reward.

Scott J. Donalds

He has achieved success who has lived well and laughed often.

Lorraine A. Donigan

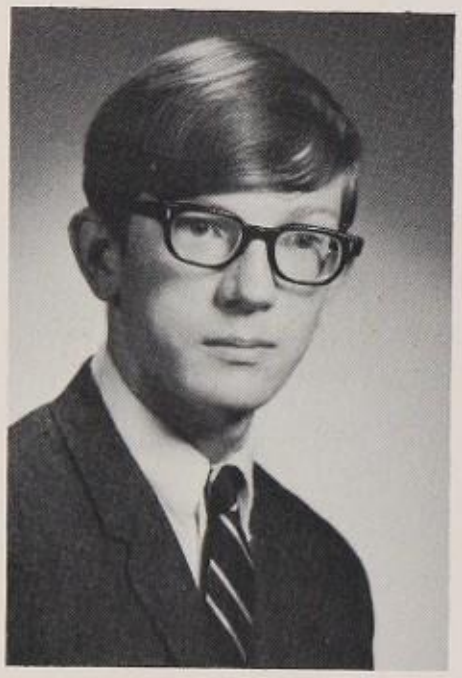
The person with vim and vigor adds zest to the dullest day.

Rosemary A. Dowd

Her eyes delight in laughing light.

Kathleen M. Doyle

Youth is happy because it has the ability to see beauty.
Anyone who keeps the ability to see beauty never grows old.

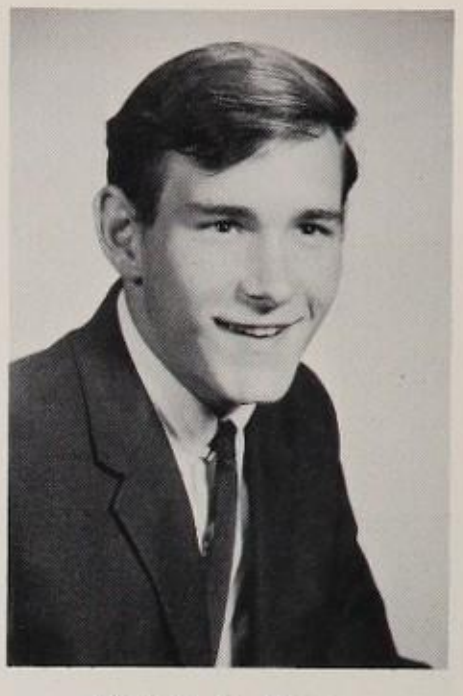


Kenneth G. Doyle

Excellence proclaims itself in deeds not words.

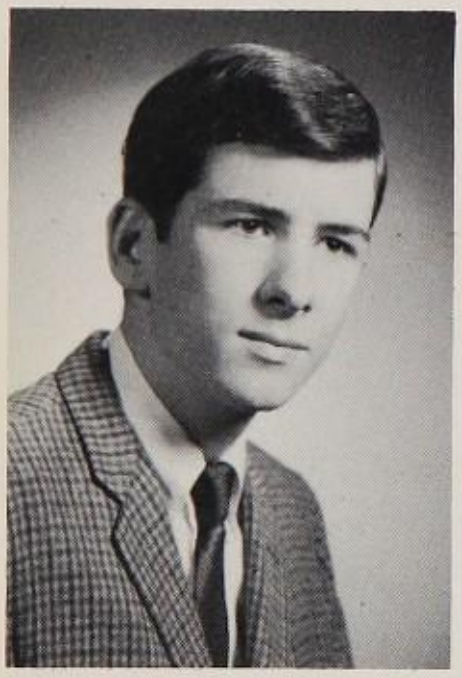
Ronnie J. Draison

Calmness is a great advantage; she that lets another chafe, may warm him at her fire.



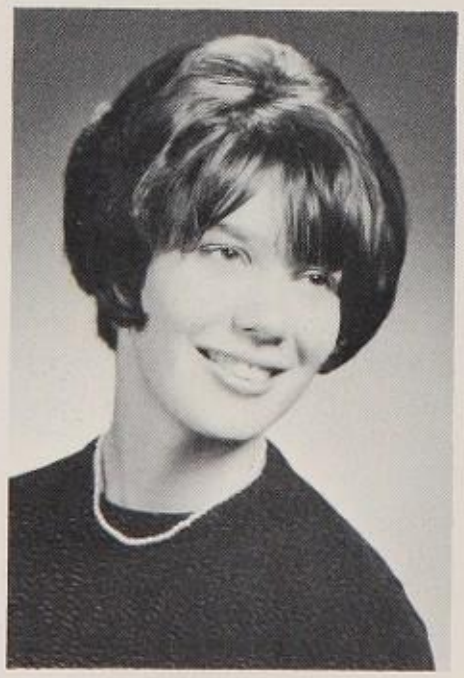
Donald J. Drapp

I left the room with silent dignity, but caught my foot in the mat.



Thomas A. Dugan

A laugh is worth a thousand groans in any market.



Carol A. Dunn

Few things there are that will endure . . . a true friend.

Christine A. Durkas

There are those who have much and give it all.
These are the believers in life and their coffer is never empty.

Benjamin R. Dykes

On cherubs and on cherubims
Full royally he rode;
And on the wings of all the winds
Came flying all abroad.

Gwen G. Eagle

The most manifest sign of wisdom is a continual cheerfulness.

Walter Easterbrook

Courage is the thing. All goes if courage goes.

Florence M. Eisenberg

The chief ingredients in the composition of those qualities that gain esteem and praise are good nature, good sense, and good breeding.

Marcia Elakman

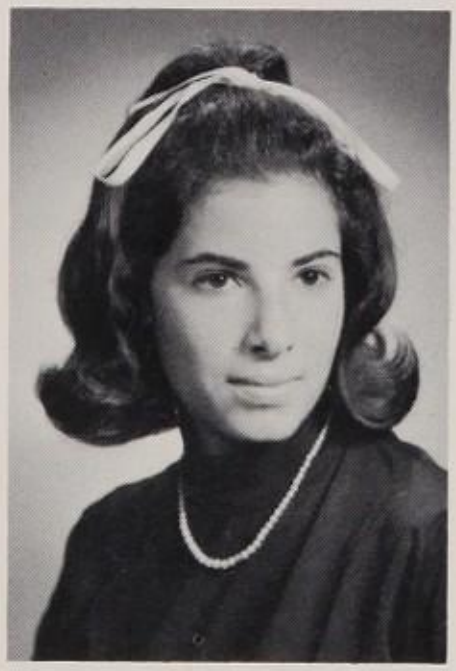
To be trusted is a greater compliment than to be loved.

Anne L. Ellman

A constant friend is a thing rare and hard to find.

Jane L. Elkes

These things shall be! A loftier woman
Than e'er the world hath known shall rise,
With flame of freedom in her soul,
And light of knowledge in her eyes.



Caryn Fass

Truth and goodness and beauty are but different faces of the same one.

Hugh J. Farley

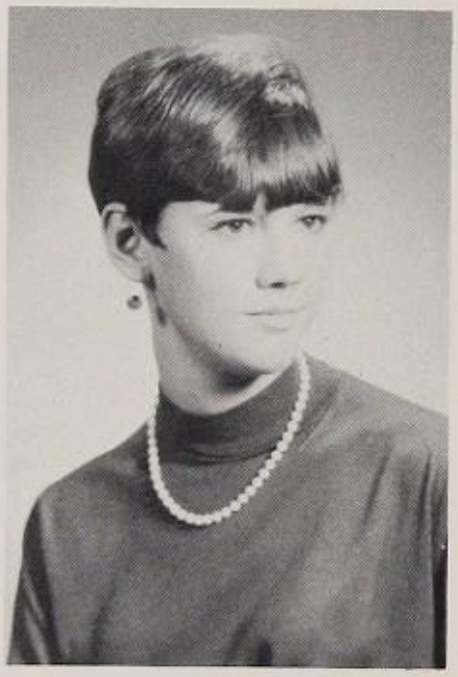
You can't keep a good man down.

Barbara P. Feaver

Her very frowns are fairer far
Than smiles of other maidens are.

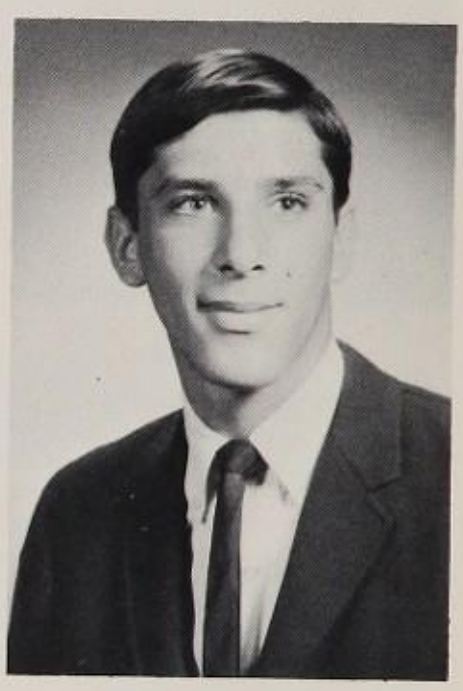
Jay G. Feine

Experience joined with common sense
To mortals is a providence.



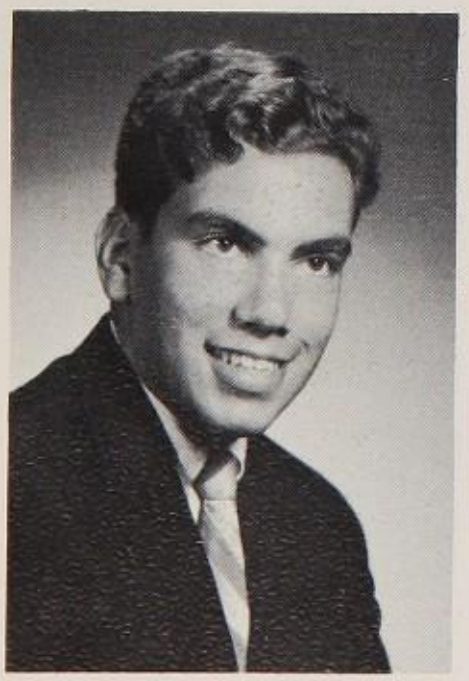
Renee L. Feinstein

The secret of success is warmth of heart and constancy of purpose.



Daniel B. Feldman

Laughter is not at all a bad beginning for a friendship and it is by far the best ending for one.



Cary M. Feldman

He was our friend formed on the good old plan,
A true and brave and downright honest man.

Concetta Fenicchia

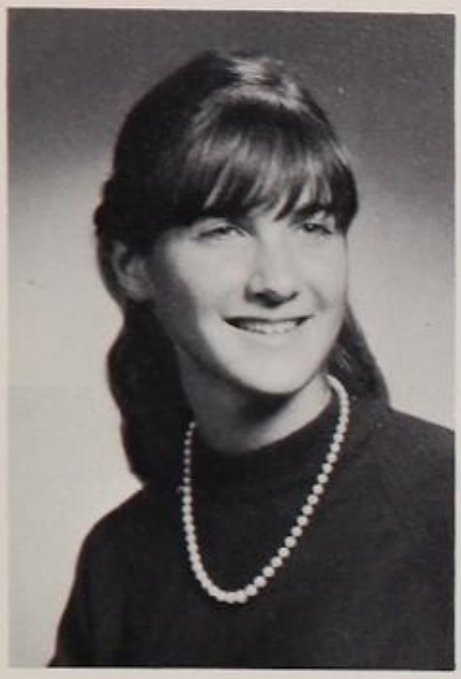
Common sense is the knack of seeing things as they are and doing them as they ought to be done.

Jeffrey W. Fernhoff

I am not concerned that I have no place,
I am concerned that I may fit myself for one,
I am not concerned that I am not known,
I seek to be worthy to be known.

Francis J. Ferrara

In friendship we find nothing false or insincere; everything is straightforward, and springs from the heart.



Judith A. Fiestal

Only those who within
Own their heart's landscape,
can have the actuality
Of all land.

Lewis E. Figatner

All men see the same objects, but do not equally understand them. Intelligence is the tongue that discerns and tastes them.

Michael H. Fink

Sports are considered by some madness, yet he who participates is hardly insane.

William R. Fink

For he was great 'ere fortune made him so.

Joan Finkelstein

A cheerful smile
A warm hello
A baton that doesn't drop too often.

Anne B. Fischel

. . . so that, in the end, when all is done, all wars waged, all debts paid, all peaces concluded, we may say with stern, sober pride that we have lived.

Leonard S. Fischer

And yet once more (ere I am laid out dead)
Knock at a star with my exalted head.

Doreen Fitzpatrick

In all her outward actions love's always seen.

Joseph L. Florio

He was the mildest manner'd man,
That ever a body did meet!

James E. Fonder

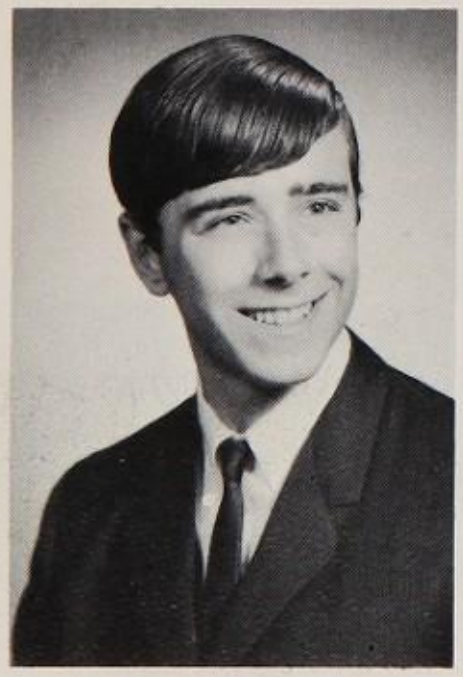
If a word spoken in its time is worth money, silence in its time is worth two.

Julia M. Fowler

A friendly spirit is a precious possession.

Ruth F. Frank

There is no greater delight than to be conscious of sincerity or self-examination.



Peter M. Frankel

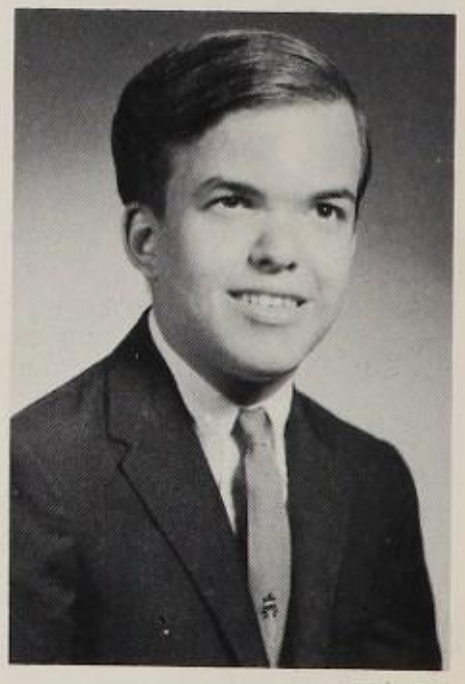
A noble aim faithfully kept is a noble deed.

Jennifer J. Freda

. . . dear nurse of arts, plenties and joyful births.

Doren S. Freedman

Waking life is a dream controlled.



Samuel M. Freeman

Friendship is the only cement that will hold the world together.

Lewis B. Freimark

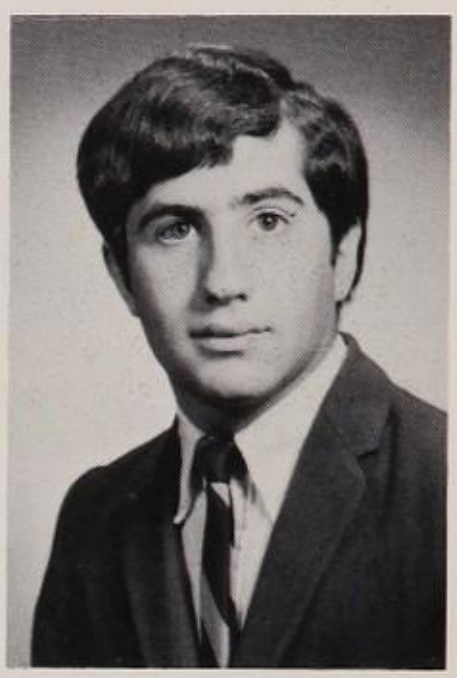
It is heaven upon earth to have a man's mind . . . turn upon the poles of truth.

Marian L. Freint

We do not know beneath what sky
Nor on what sea shall be her fate;
We only know it shall be high,
We only know it shall be great.

Fern Friedman

Every artist dips his brush in his own soul and paints his own nature into his pictures.



Stan D. Fuchs

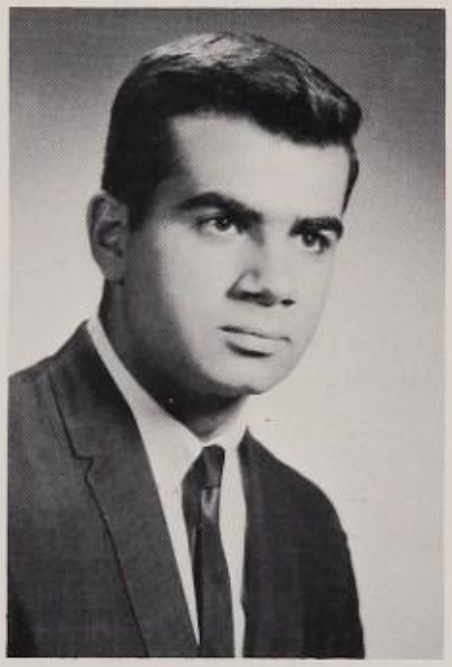
Wit consists of knowing the resemblance of things that differ, and the difference in things that are alike.

Wendy P. Gaer

Keep your face to the sunshine and you cannot see the shadow.

Leslie M. Gaiter

The art of pleasing consists of being pleased.



Robert J. Garabed

He is happy whose circumstances suit his temperament.

Jeffrey C. Gatsik

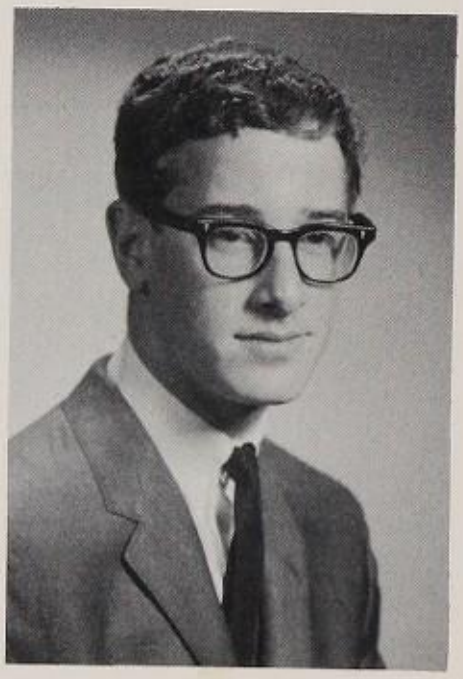
Mingle a little folly with your wisdom; a little nonsense now and then is pleasant.

Steven I. Gatsik

Life is often too important to take seriously.

Martha E. Germann

There is no greater blessing than the wish to scatter joy and not pain.



Martin G. Gilbert

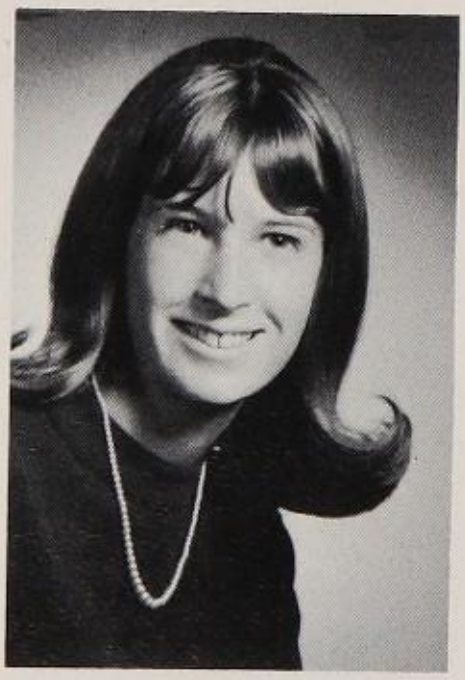
Happy am I; from care I'm free!
Why aren't they all contented like me?

Deborah J. Gille

Her cheering word, her sunny smile, her true friendship —a shining light.

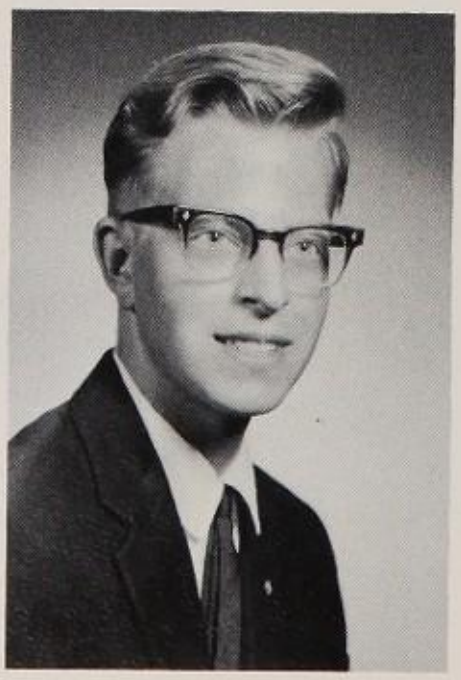
Pasquale Giovannone

He feared no danger for he knew no sin.



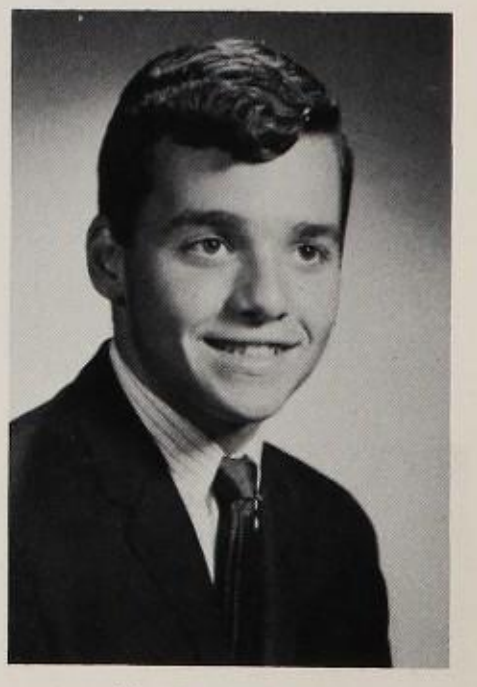
Barbara A. Gleason

Of easy temper, naturally good, faithful to her word.



Raymond V. Goedl

Men are better than . . . theology.

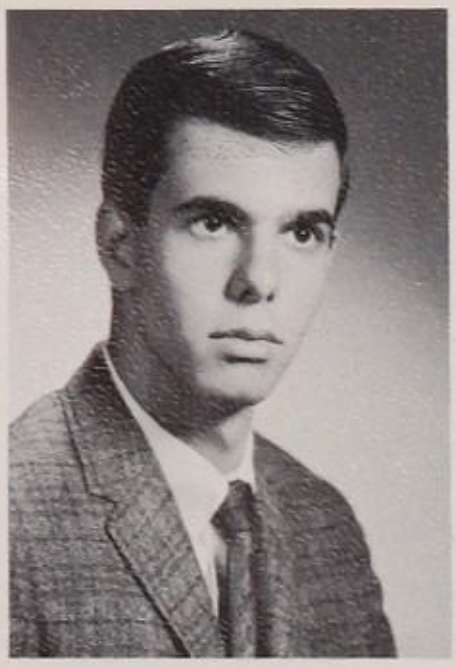


Mark S. Gold

Not a sinner, not a saint perhaps,
But the very best of chaps.

Rita B. Goldberg

Were I confined to a corner of a garret, all my days like a spider, the world would be as large while I had my thoughts about me.



Stephen M. Goldberg

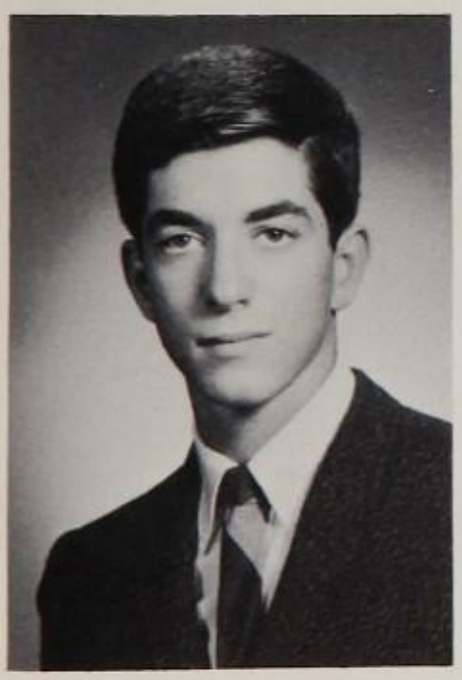
The language of tones belongs equally to all mankind, and melody is the absolute language in which the musician speaks to every heart.

Amy S. Goldman

Art is the desire of a man to express himself, to record the reactions of his personality to the world he lives in.

Rita M. Goldstein

With malice toward none; with charity for all.



Hartley A. Goldstone

Great men are rarely isolated mountain peaks; they are the summits of ranges.

Barbara L. Gould

The power of little things to give happiness should be the first lesson in life.

Stephen C. Grado

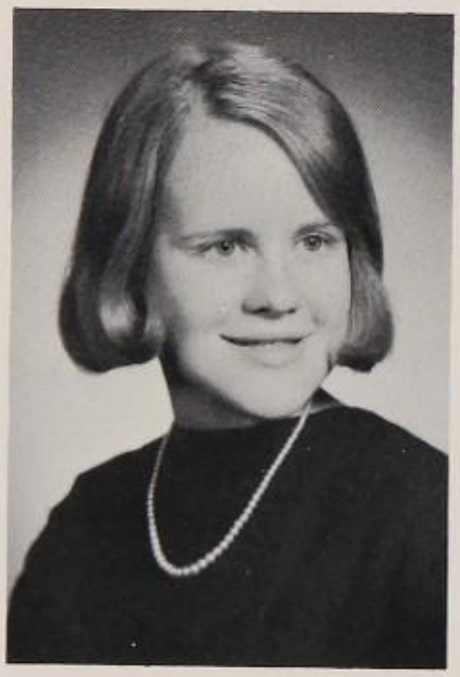
The true standard of quality is seated in the mind; those who think nobly are noble.

Barbara Graham

With a warm smile and a helping hand, she has reached us all.

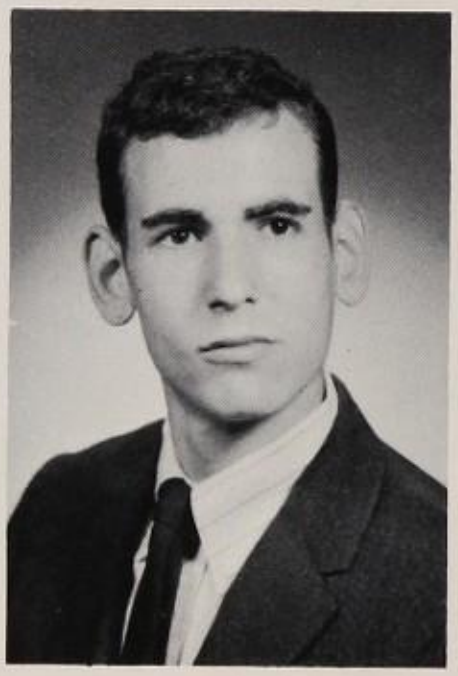
Velma Graham

. . . is never just slightly interested.



Sheila C. Grant

Mind cannot follow it, nor words express her infinite sweetness.



Richard L. Green

Skill and confidence are an unconquered army.

Valerie A. Green

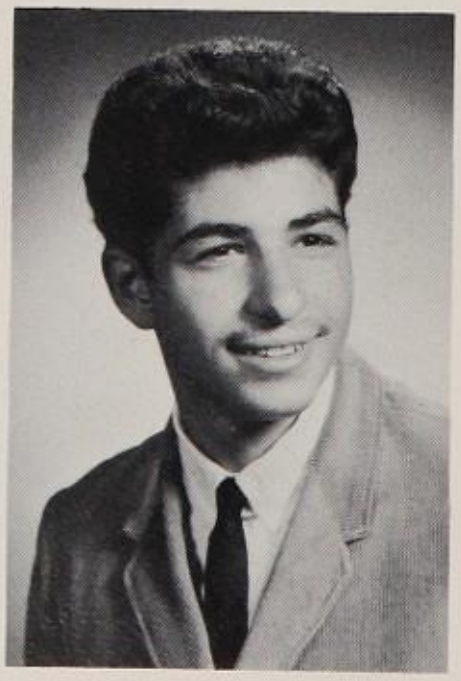
In fearless youth we tempt the heights of arts.

Mary Anne Greenthaler

A good face is a letter of introduction;
A good heart is a letter of credit.

Yvonne J. Gregoire

To know, to think, to dream. That is everything.

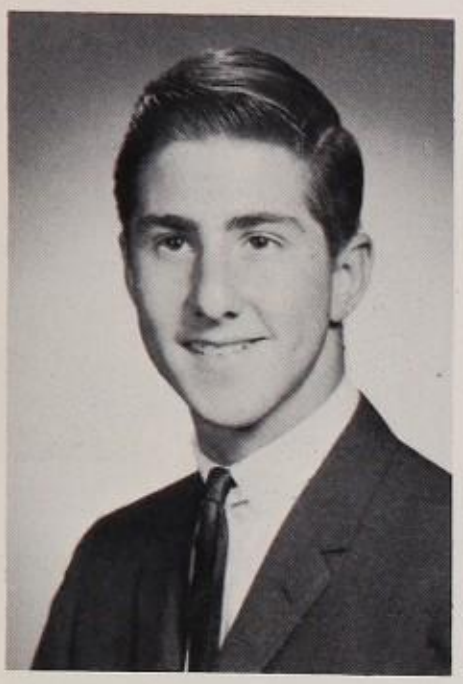


Victor Grieco

I must plow my furrow alone.

Jonathan Grisman

Geometry . . . is the only science that it pleased God to bestow on mankind.

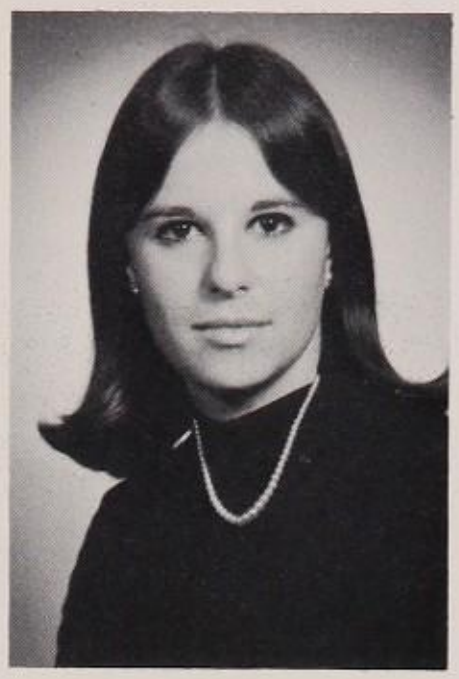


Edward Gross

A man, they say, who had much wit
And was not shy of using it.

Iris Gross

Nearest the throne itself must be
The footstool of humility,
Fairest and best adorned is she
Whose clothing is humility.



Lili C. Gross

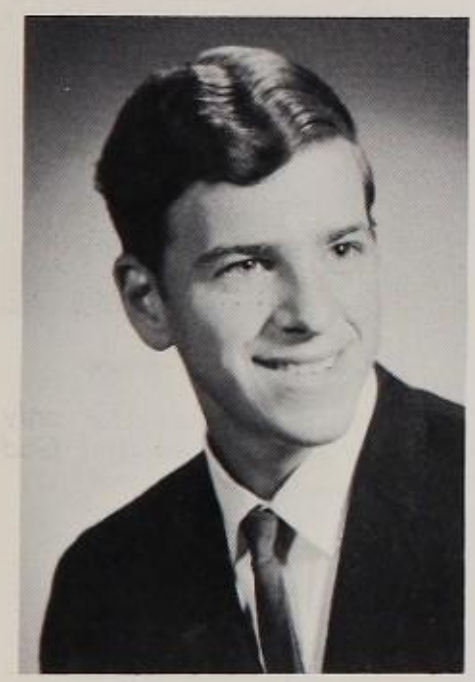
The essence of humor is sensibility; warm fellow-feeling with all forms of existence.

Andrea Grosser

Whatever she does, wherever she goes, grace orders her actions and follows her movements.

Barbara J. Gundel

Those who find beautiful meanings in beautiful things are the cultivated. For these there is hope.

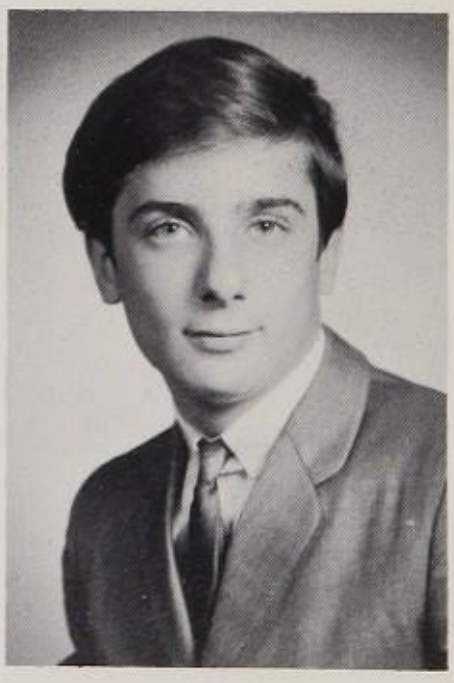


Richard A. Grubman

It is as men as in soils, where sometimes there is a vein of gold which the owner knows not of.

Marsha L. Gundy

Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind; And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee.

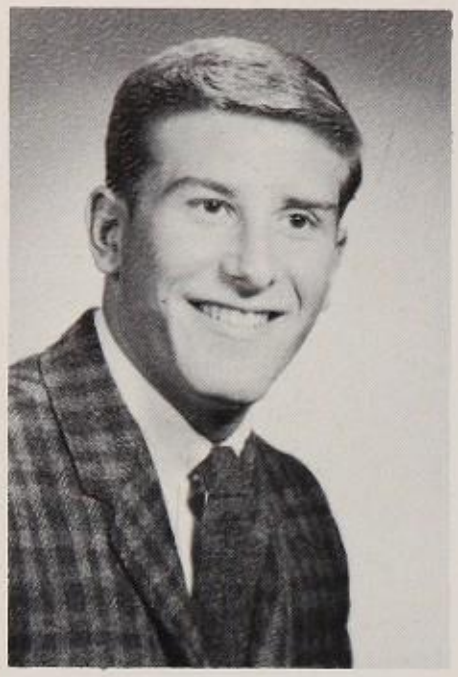


George Guttilla

Know, man hath all which Nature hath, but more,
And in that more lie all his hopes of good.

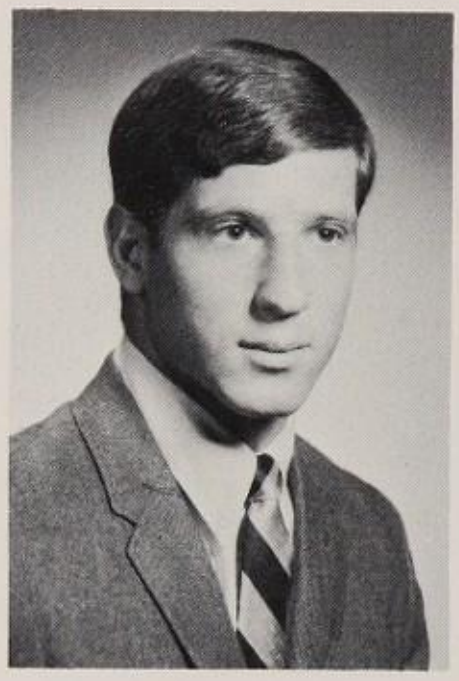
Raymond R. Habel

A man is a bundle of relations, a knot of roots, whose flower and fruitage is the world.



Donald L. Haber

Strength, integrity, and loyalty make a rare friend,
Wisdom, good humor and nobility make a rare man,
Remember the friend; treasure the man.



Samuel A. Halbrecht

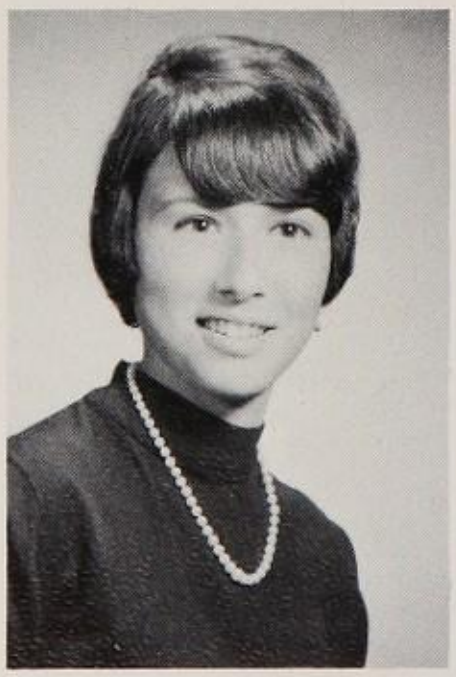
Born for success he seemed, with grace to win, with heart to hold, with shining gifts that took all eyes.

Beatrice Haledjian

Make other people like themselves a little better and rest assured they'll like you very much.

Richard Halperin

The highest possible stage in moral culture is when we recognize that we ought to control our thoughts.

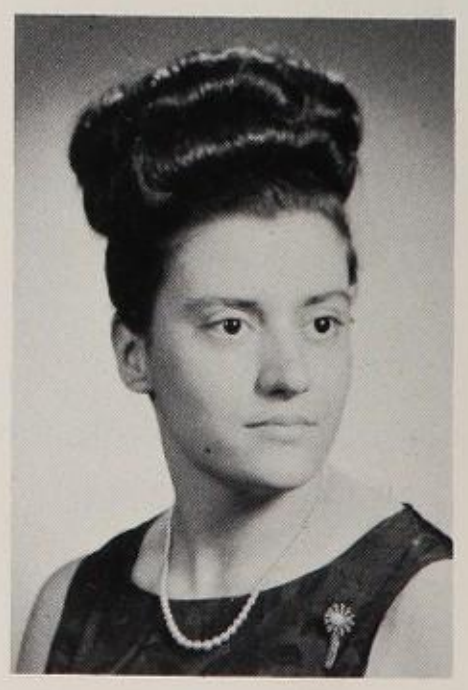


Myra J. Hamburger

The secret of success: Never let down!
Never let up!

Kathleen S. Hand

And let there be no purpose in friendship save the deepening of spirit.

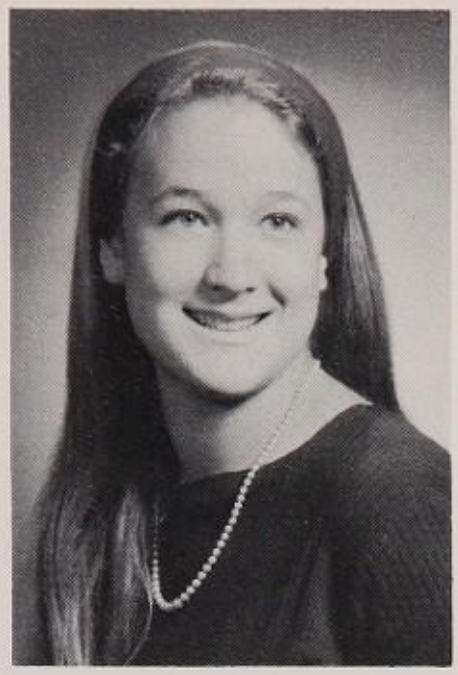


Irene Haralambides

I must have liberty
Withal, as large a charter as the wind,
To blow on whom I please.

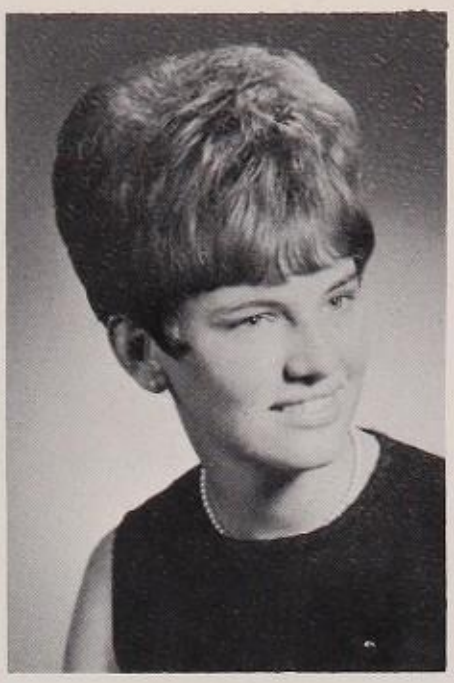
Mary Haralambides

A cheerful heart is what the muses love;
A soaring spirit is their prime delight.



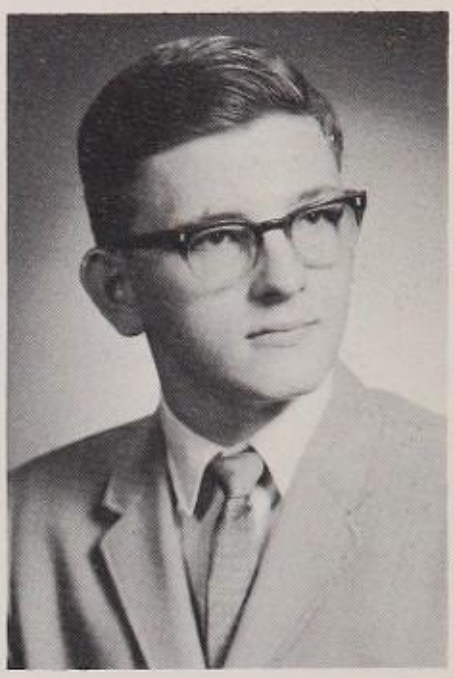
Eleanor P. Harris

I have a heart with room for every joy.



Linda Marie Haugk

She travels through the day on a soft cloud of happiness.

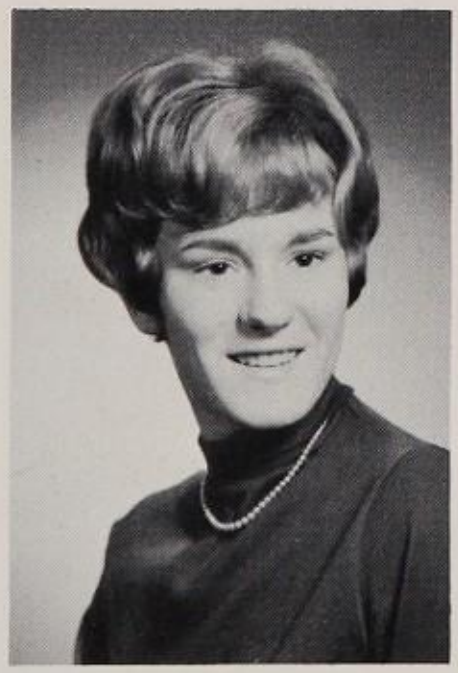


Raymond B. Helble

Should the whole frame around him break,
In ruin and confusion hurled,
He, unconcerned, would hear the mighty crack,
And stand secure amidst a falling world.

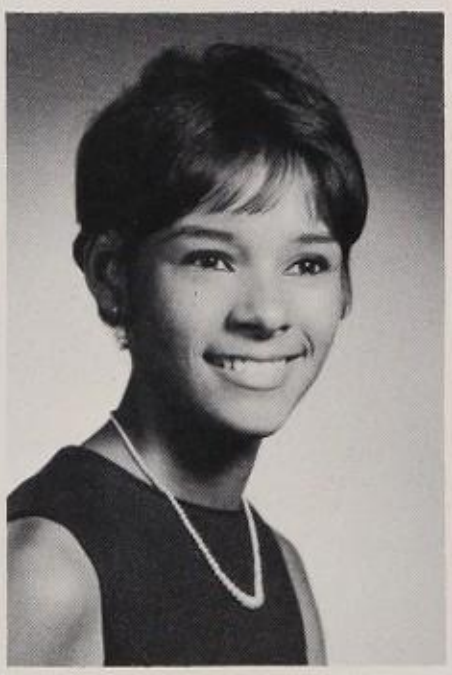
Susan L. Hemmer

Such a fine first dream
But they laughed
At me . . . They said
I had made it up.



Christy Lee Henderson

Here's a sigh to those who love me,
And a smile to those who hate;
And whatever sky's above me,
Here's a heart for every fate.

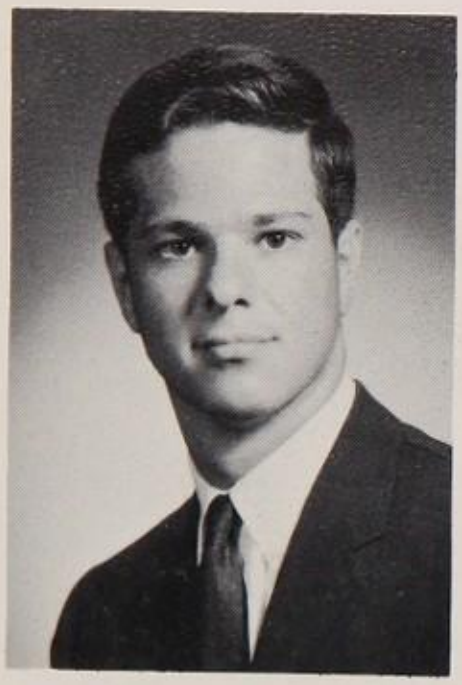


Susan J. Henriques

Come, fill the Cup, and in the fire of Spring,
Your Winter garment of Repentance fling:
The Bird of Time has but a little way
To flutter—and the Bird is on the wing.

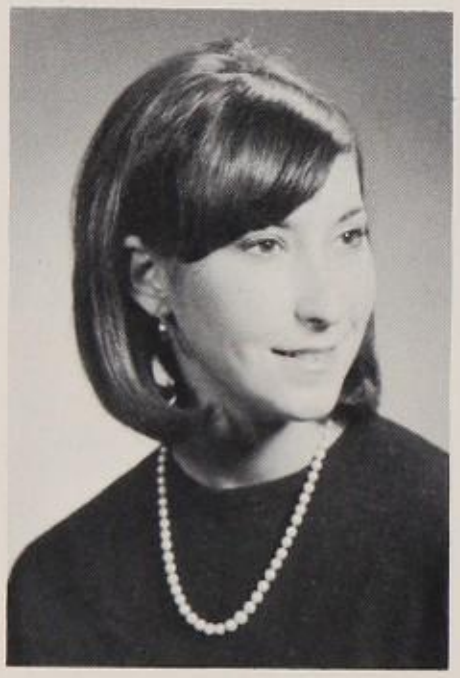
Henry L. B. Herman

And thus he bears without abuse the grand old name of gentleman.



Howard A. Herr

Of all the heavenly gifts that mortal men commend, what trusty treasure in the world can countervail a friend?

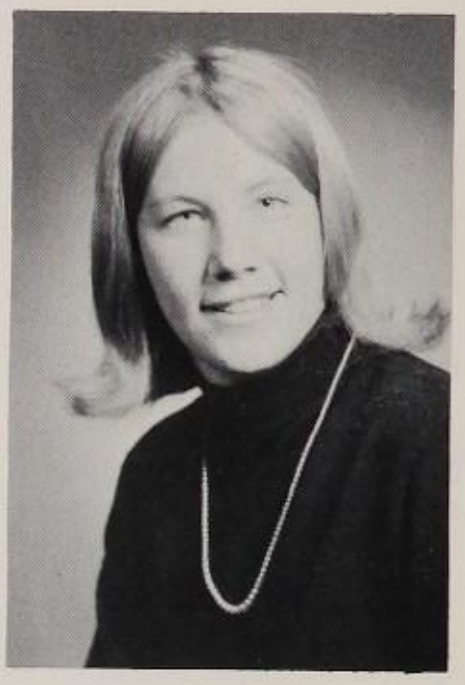


Cara M. Hetson

Build on, and make thy castles high and fair,
Rising and reaching upward to the skies.

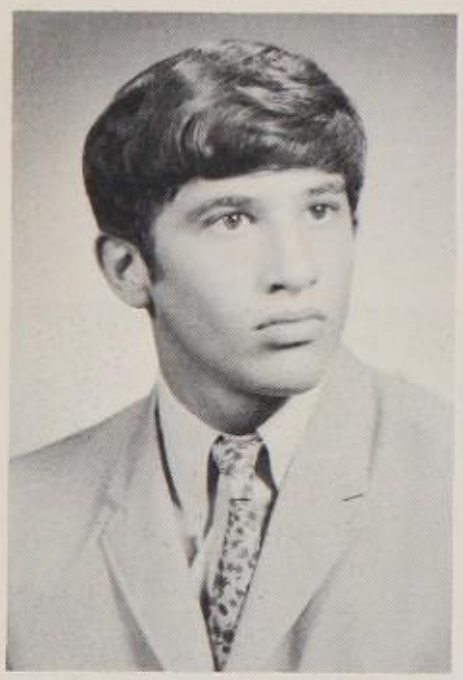
Theresa A. Hewsenian

Come away, O human child!
To the waters and the wild
With a faery, hand in hand,
For the world's more full of weeping than you can understand.



Jean E. Hickok

Exceedingly fair she was not; and yet fair
In that she never studied to be fairer
Than Nature made her; beauty cost her nothing,
Her virtues were so rare.



Jonathan H. Hillson

To live in the world of creation—to get into it and stay in it—to frequent it and haunt it—to think intensely and fruitfully—combinations and inspirations into depth and continuity of attention and meditation—this is the only thing.

Sharon R. Hilscher

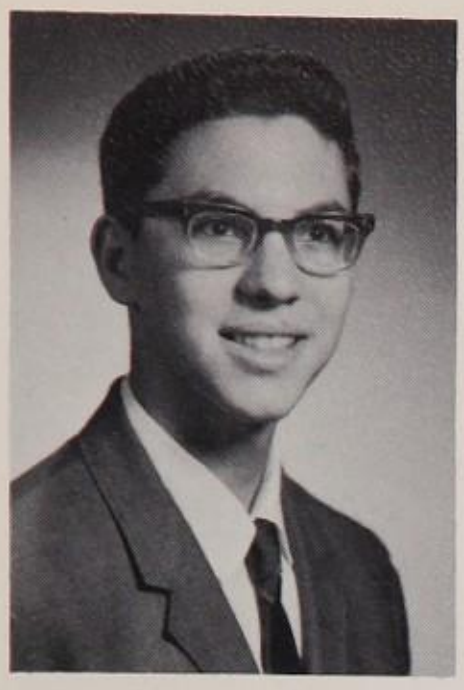
One crowded hour of glorious life
Is worth an age without a name.

Susan B. Hirsch

She comes with gusts of laughter,
The music as of rills;
With tenderness and sweetness,
The wisdom of the hills.

Laura C. Hirshman

With silent step she comes and smiles, and silent slips away.



Robert D. Hoberman

One's-self I sing, a simple, separate person.

Who hath not own'd with rapture-smitten frame,
The power of grace, the magic of a name.

Barbara E. Hoops.

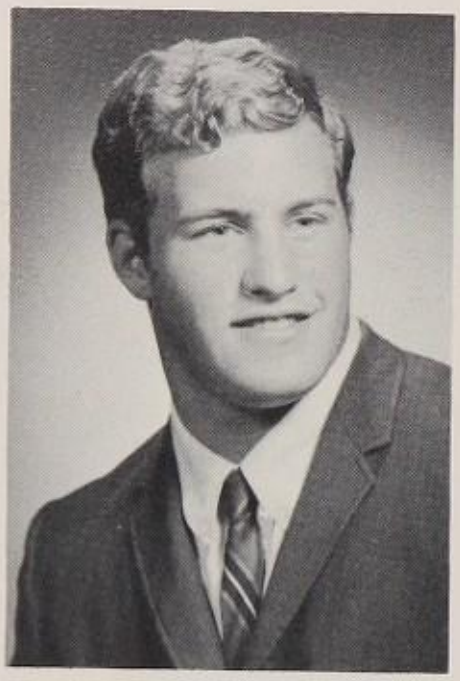
Climb high
Climb far
Your goal the sky
Your aim the star.

Kenneth Hopke

Not in the clamour of the crowded street,
Not in the shouts and plaudits of the throng,
But in ourselves, are triumph and defeat.

Judy E. Horton

Everyone has inside himself . . . what shall I call it? A piece of good news! Everyone is . . . a very great, very important character.



William S. Horwitz

When is a man a big man?
When he can do what others can do, and yet be what others are not.

Joanne W. Howe

Gregory J. Jarem

Afoot and lighthearted I take to the open road,
Healthy, free, the world before me,
The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose.

Leonard A. Jason

For those to whom much is given, much is required.

Laverne Jeader

Gayly we glide in the gaze of the world
With streamers afloat and with canvas unfurled,
All gladness and glory to wandering eyes,
Yet chartered by sorrow and freighted with sighs.

Dianne L. Johnson

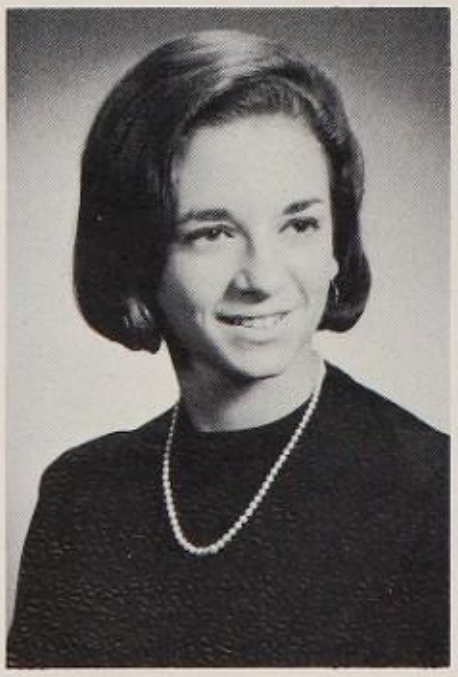
Be thou the rainbow to the storms of life,
The evening beam that smiles the clouds away
And tints to-morrow with prophetic ray.

Linda E. Joseph

So rare is the agreement between attractiveness and modesty.

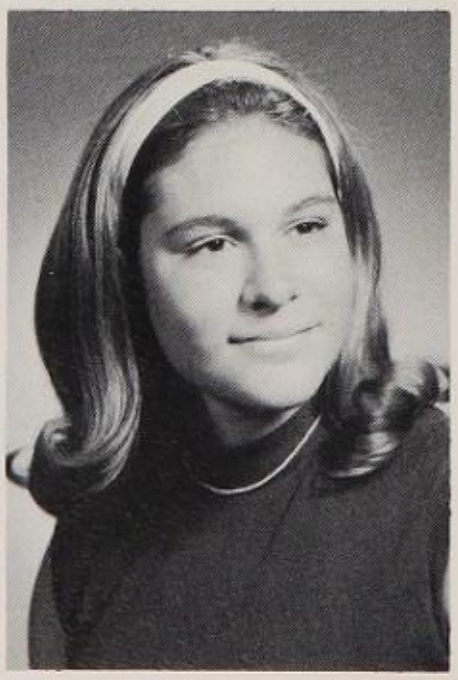
Judith I. Kadden

A daughter of the gods, divinely tall, and most divinely fair.



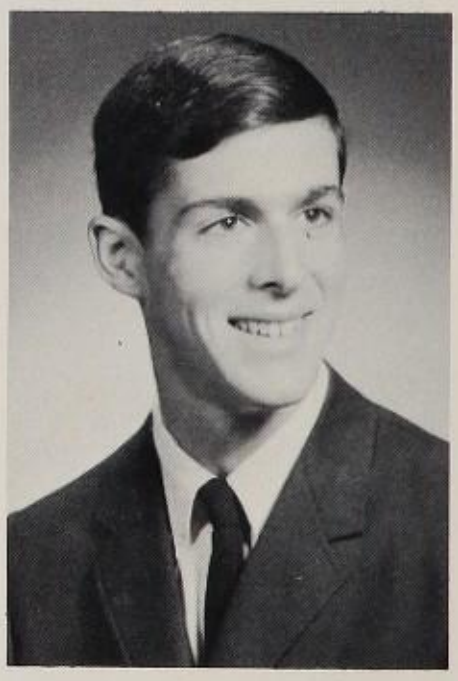
Susan P. Kahn

It is the fate of a woman
Long to be patient and silent, to wait like a ghost that is speechless,
Till some questioning voice dissolves the spell of its silence.



Judith G. Kallman

Her worth is warrant for her welcome.



Charles S. Kalman

Life would not be tolerable were it not for its amusements.

Richard M. Kalt

Satire's a weapon, if one's too discreet,
To run amuck, and tilt at all he meets.

Helaine S. Kaplan

La main qui ne trahit,
La bouche qui ne mente,
L'âme digne de la confiance.

Thomas Karp

The inclination to goodness is imprinted deeply in the nature of man.

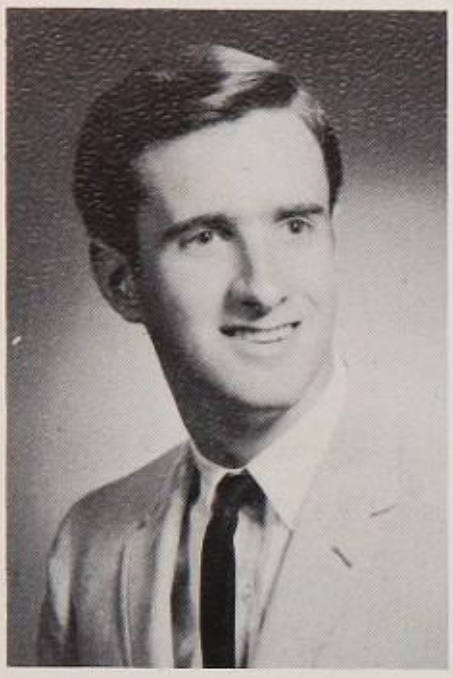
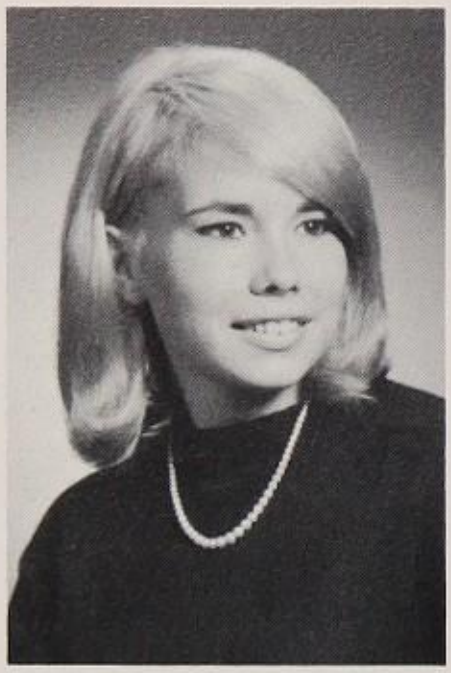
David R. Kennedy

A wanderer is man from his birth.
He was born on a ship.
On the breast of the River of Time.



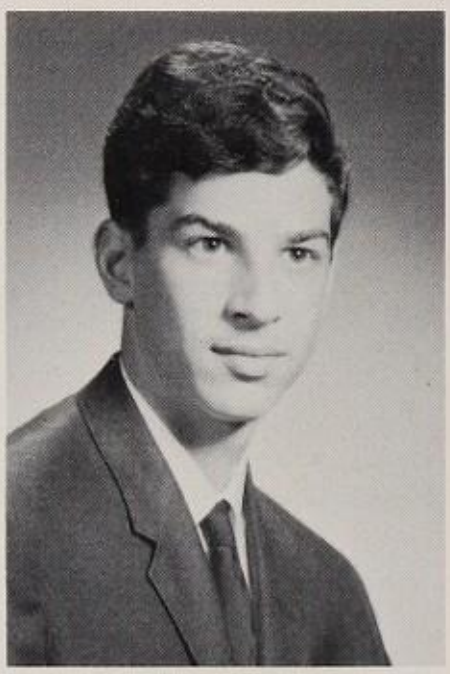
James Kennedy

Why then the world's mine oyster.
Which I with sword will open.



Susan E. Kennedy

I stood
Among them, but not of them; in a shroud
of thoughts which were not their thoughts.



David A. Kerner

And I made a rural pen,
And I stain'd the water clear,
And I wrote my happy songs
Every child may joy to hear.

Ernest H. Ketelsen

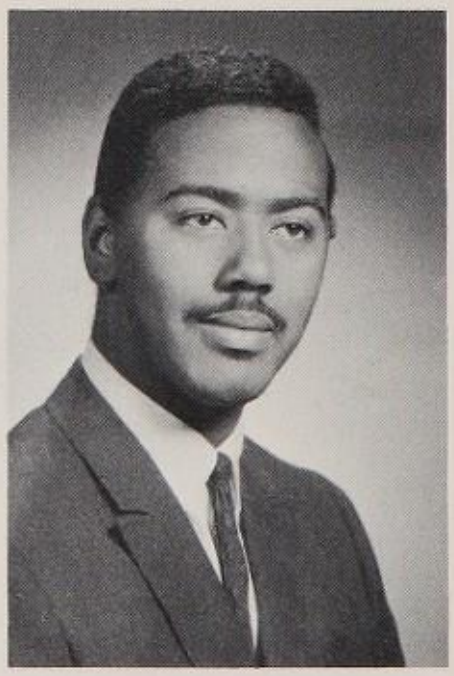
Every man is a paradox—unique in his own right, yet very much like others.

Catherine Kieliszek

Her voice was ever soft,
Gentle and low, an excellent thing in woman.

Mary E. Kieliszek

And if my strength fail, at least my boldness will be a title of honor; in great enterprises the very "I would" is enough.



Gregory D. Kimbro

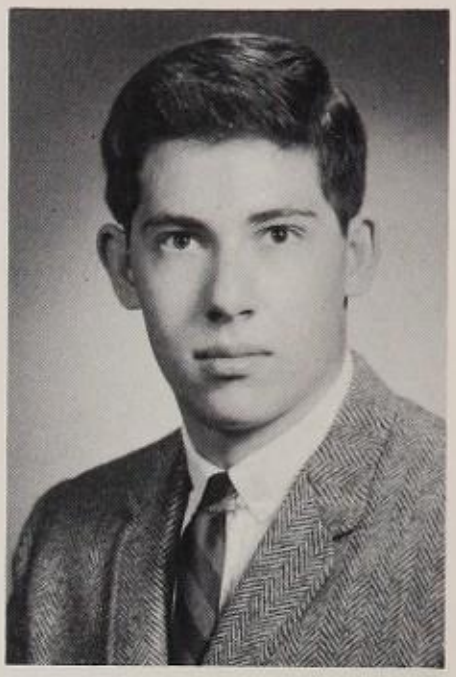
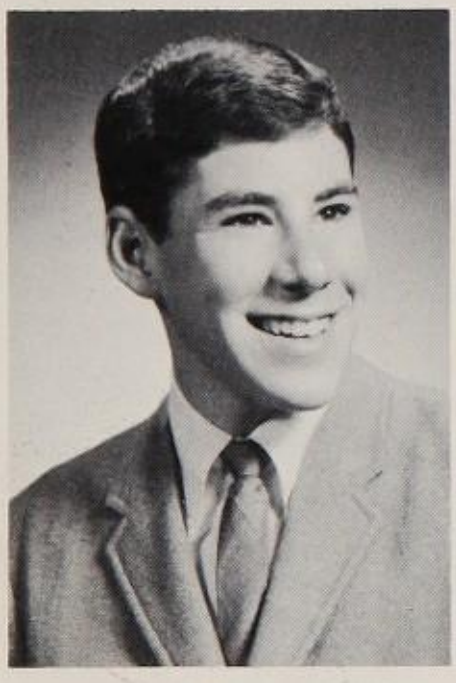
With sensitive instincts
She is the creative one.



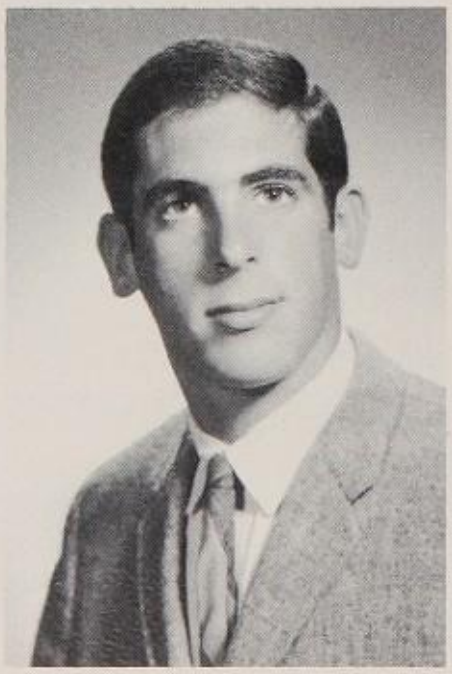
Neal R. Silverman

Doing easily what others find difficult is talent; doing what is impossible for talent is genius.



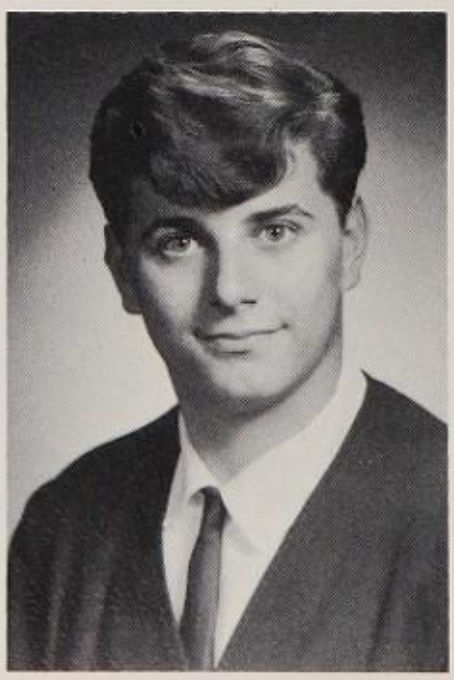
Bruce D. Silverstein

A quiet chap who excels in his work and doesn't talk about it.



Elliott Silverstein

He is a sportsman in the finest sense of the word, in his attitudes as well as his actions.



Michael J. Simeone

The knight of the sad countenance.

Barry G. Simon

For the eye of the intellect sees in all objects what it brought with it—the means of seeing.

Meryl L. Simon

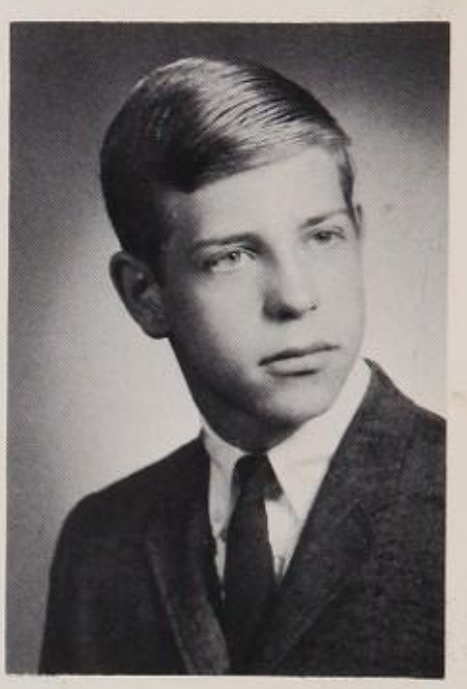
The light that cast the longest beam.

Louis W. Simoni

No doubt he will succeed—the question is, where will his success stop?

Nancy M. Siwulec

The style is the woman herself.



Alan N. Skiena

Happiness is the only good.
The time to be happy is now,
The place to be happy is here.

Lorna C. Small

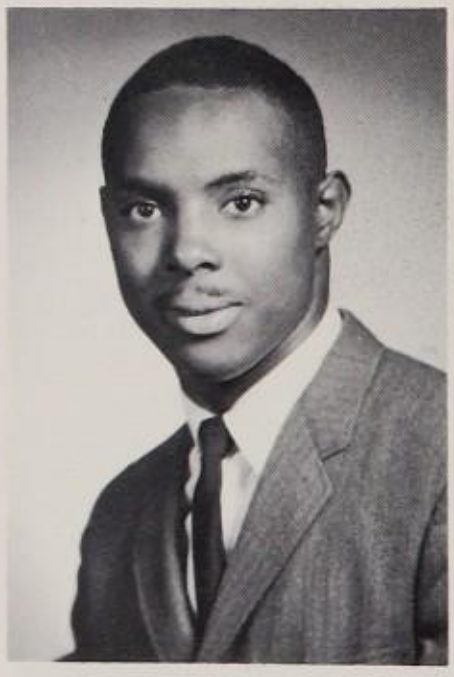
The truth is the light.

Donald C. Slafer

He marks not only that you won,
But how you played the game.

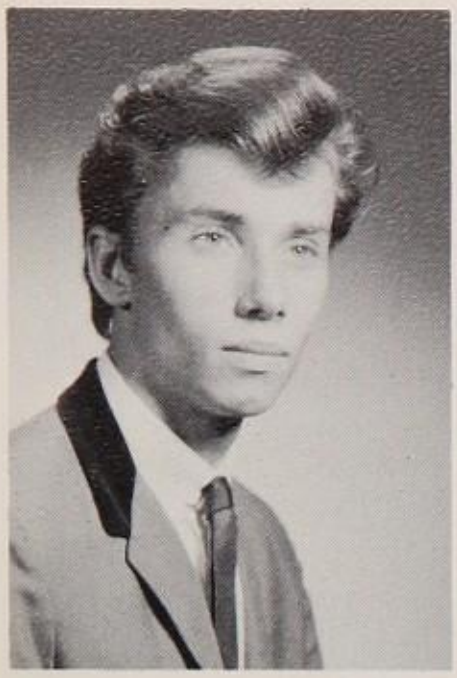
Craig A. Smith

A professional musician is a person who has gotten far enough along so you can tell whether he is tuning or playing.



John L. Smith

What counts is not what you have done, but where you are going.

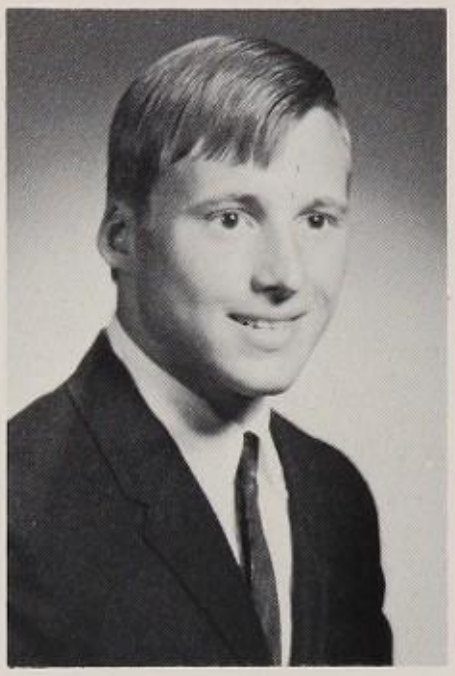


Robert R. Smith

One thing is forever good,
That thing is success.

Mary Anne Sohmer

Her smile is sweet, her nature calm and wise.

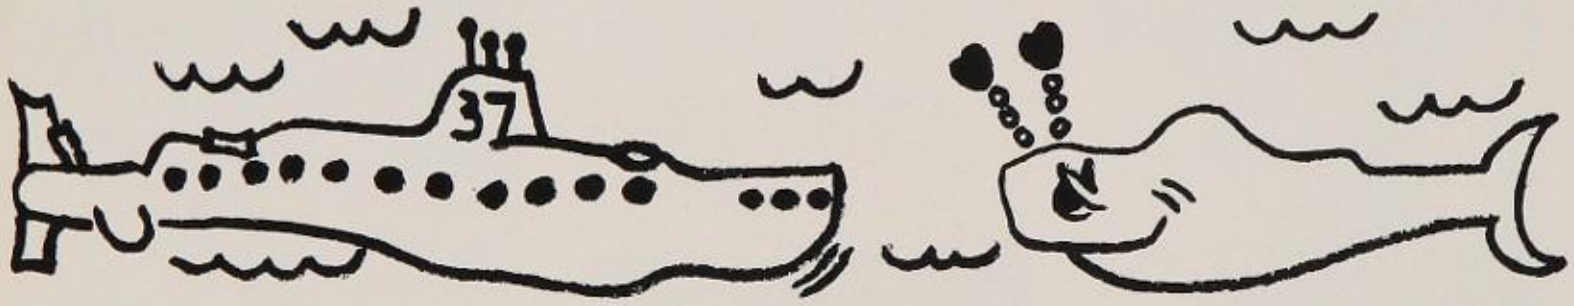


Carl F. Solberg

He was a gentleman from sole to crown
Clean-flavored and imperially slim
And admirably schooled in every grace.

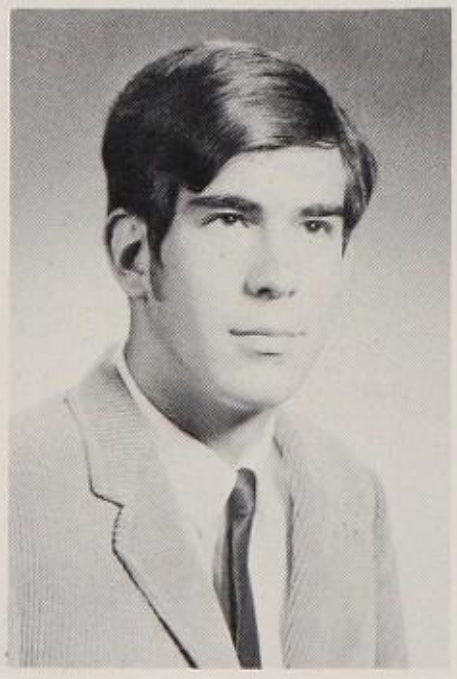
Ann P. Solomon

A multitude of small delights constitute happiness.



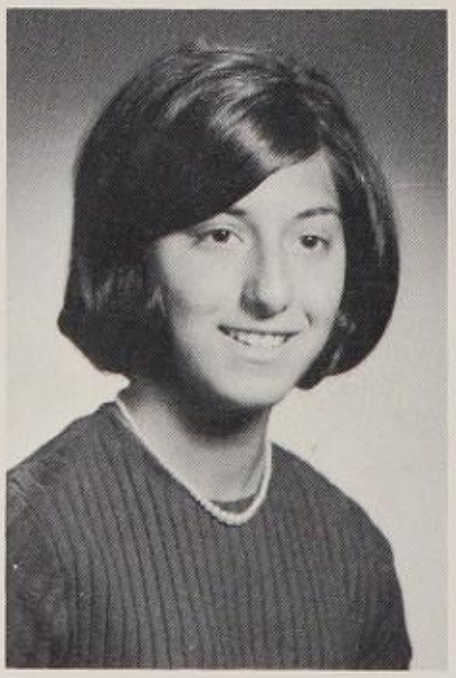
Mark L. Sosower

It is a ridiculous demand that men make that you should speak so that they understand you.



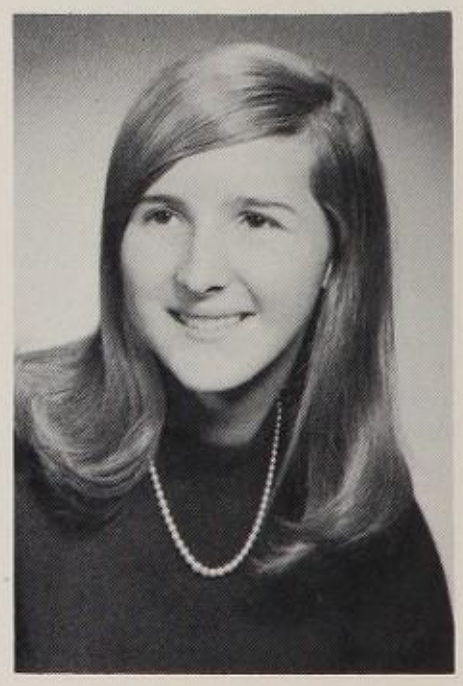
Daniel Soyer

Grand, gloomy, and peculiar, he sat upon the throne a sceptred hermit, wrapped in the solitude of his own originality.



Jane A. Speciale

Serene yet cheerful, reserved yet enthusiastic, and a constant friend to all.



Marjorie N. Spiegel

Like drops of wine we have tasted her sweetness a thousand times.

Ralph R. Spinelli

Great men, like great deeds, need no trumpets.

Mark K. Spiro

Who works wonders with his heart, and consummate wizardry in his art.

Janet A. Spring

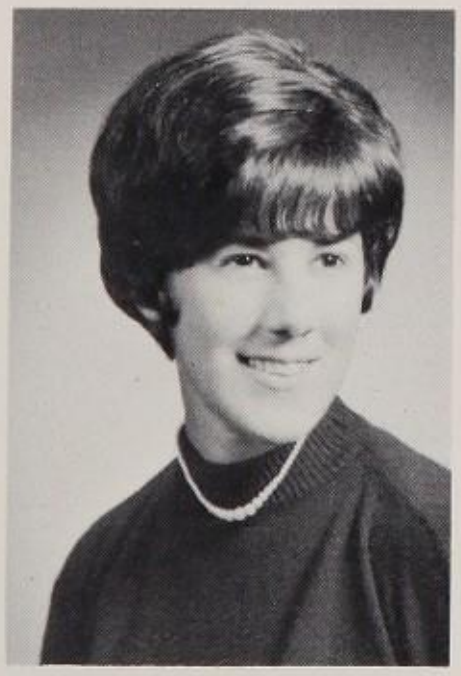
Here lies sweetness in its true form, that sees the world only in its finest light.

Susan Srulowitz

. . . whose sweetness heightens her surroundings, whose goodness gladdens the day.

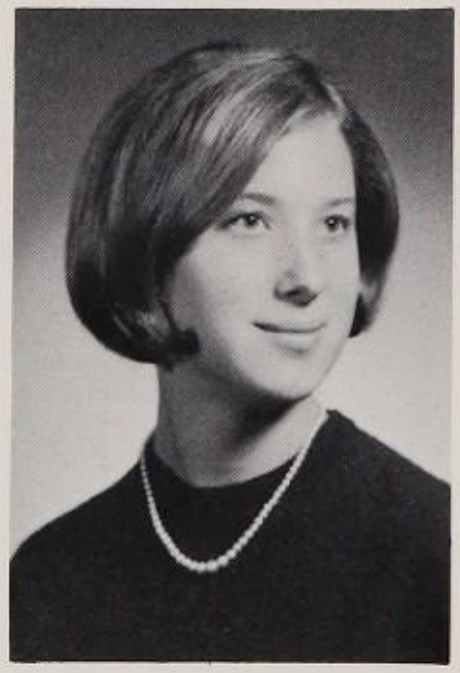
Yvonne C. St. John

Her air, her manners, all who saw her admired;
Courteous, though coy, and gentle and happy.



Harriet B. Star

Nothing great is ever achieved without enthusiasm.
Then can there be any doubt about the heights to which she will soar?



Sandra L. Stark

It is so small a thing
To have enjoyed the sun . . .
To have lived light in the spring,
To have loved, to have thought, to have done,
To have advanced true friends.

Catherine Staten

Ah, bold nightingale, even before his lordship you won't mend your song.

Michael J. Stein

Rather than seem good he chose to be good and so, the less he strove for fame, the closer it dogged his footsteps.

James A. Steinberg

So high is grandeur to our dust
So near is God to man,
When Duty whispers low, thou must,
The youth replies, I can.

Rachel L. Steinberg

The most absurd aspirations have often led to unusual success.

Carol A. Steinfeld

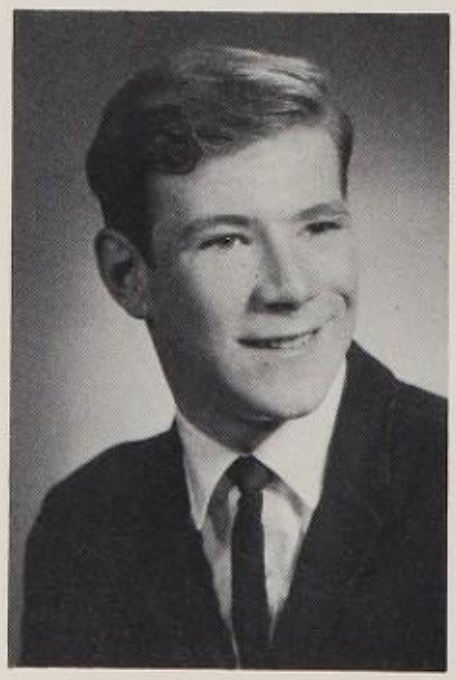
Sun-treader, life and light be thine forever!

Michael Steuer

The man who deals in sunshine
Is the man who gets the crowds.

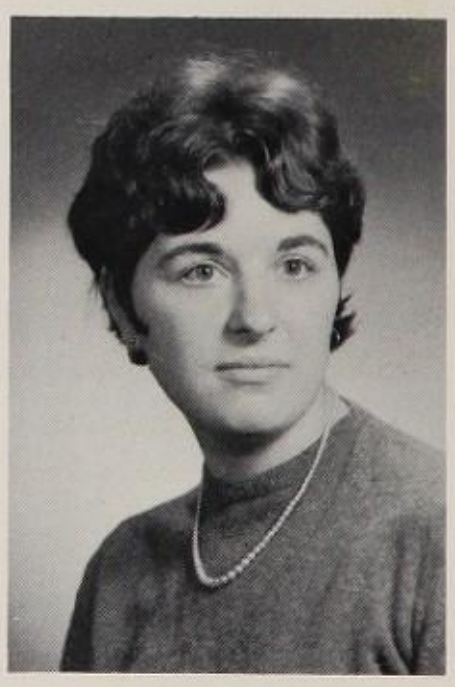
Virginia Stewart

Exhilaration and effervescence lend a liveliness to the soul which is irreplaceable.



Eric G. Stokes

Never believe the impossible,
Never regret the past,
Do not long for the unattainable.

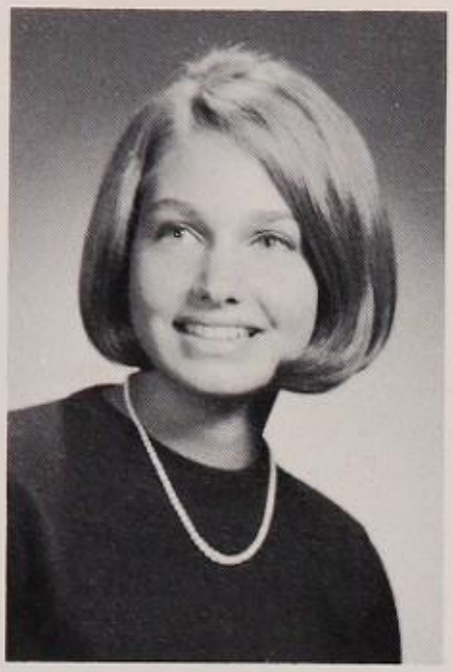


Barbara L. Stone

O friend, never strike sail to a fear! Come into port greatly or sail with God the seas.

John P. Stone

The world steps aside to let any man pass who knows whither he is going.



Karen S. Sulcov

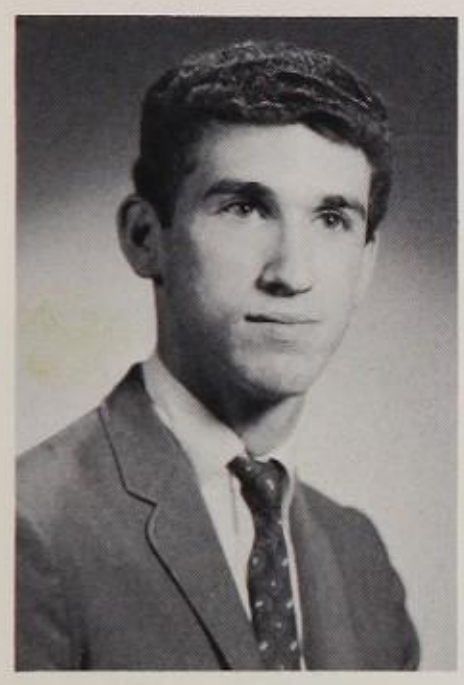
Her loveliness I never knew
Until she smiled on me:
O, then I saw her eye was bright,
A well of love, a spring of light.

Mary H. Sullivan

She has achieved success and happiness who has lived well, laughed often and loved much.

Robert Sullivan

Take me for a trip upon your magic swirling ship,
All my senses have been stripped,
And my hands can't feel to grip . . .

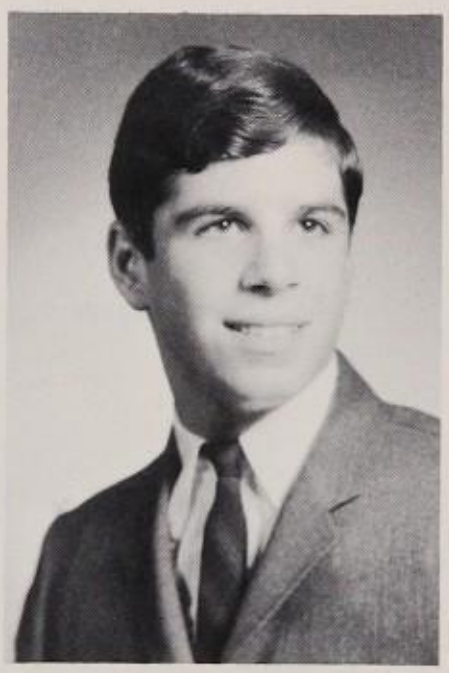


Edward W. Sulzberger

Everybody has his own theater, in which he is manager, actor, producer, and director.

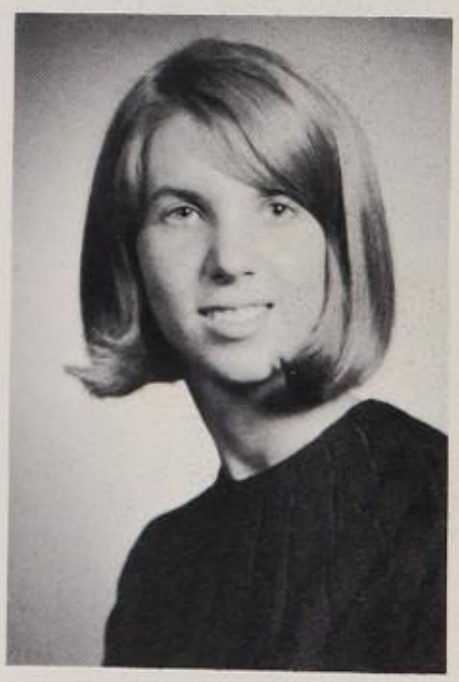
Leon Sussman

Talent is the capacity for doing anything that depends on application and industry.



William D. Suval

The actions of men are like the index of a book; they point out what is most remarkable.



Diane M. Sweeney

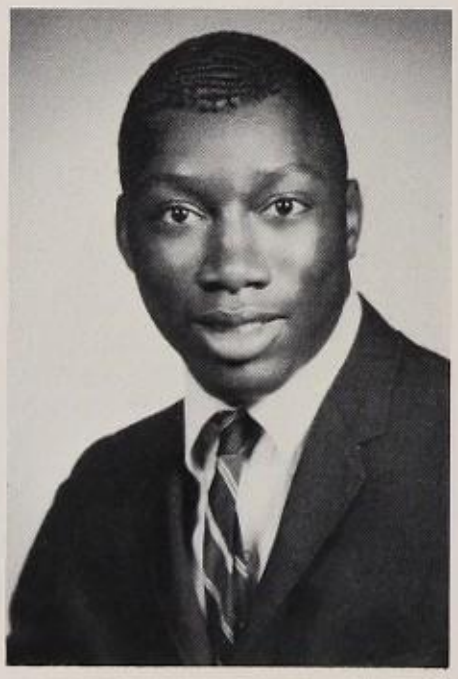
The hurrying, tumbling waves,
The strata of colored clouds, the long bar of maroon-tint away, solitary by itself . . .
These became part of the child who went forth every day and who now goes and will always go forth every day.

Irma M. Szalontai

Laughing is the sensation of feeling good all over.

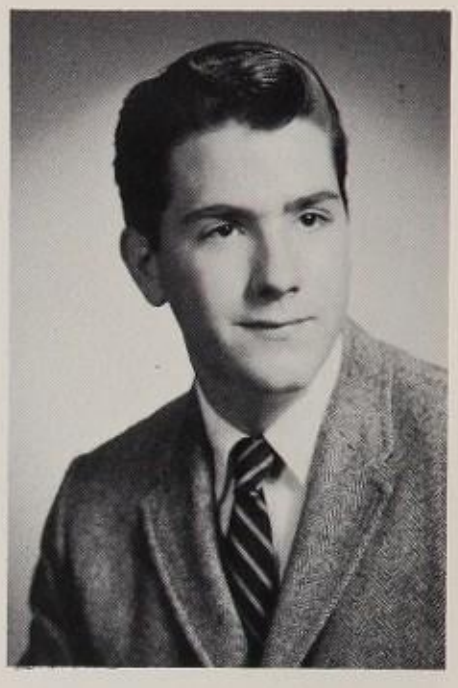
Brian D. Tarras

A true friend is distinguished in the crisis of hazard and necessity; when the gallantry of his aid may show the worth of his soul and the loyalty of his heart.



Joseph Taste

The road to success is dotted with many tempting parking places.



Thomas R. Taylor

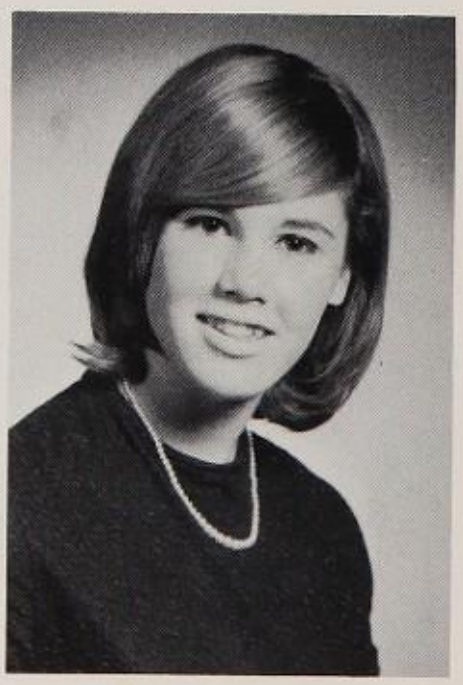
We, like the eagles, were born to be free; we were born to wander.

Cheryl E. Teitler

To know her is to love her.

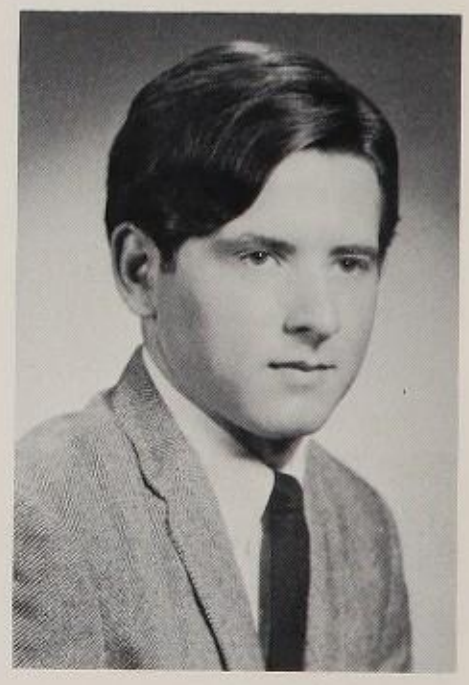
Karen A. Themmen

A kind and gentle heart she hath to comfort friends and foes.



Geraldine Theodore

Hope is the thing with feathers
That perches in the soul,
And sings the tune without the words,
And never stops at all.



Alexander T. Thomas

Whose high respect and rich validity does lack a parallel.

Carol M. Tibbetts

Sincerity, truth, faithfulness,
Come into the very essence of friendship.

Janet S. Tieger

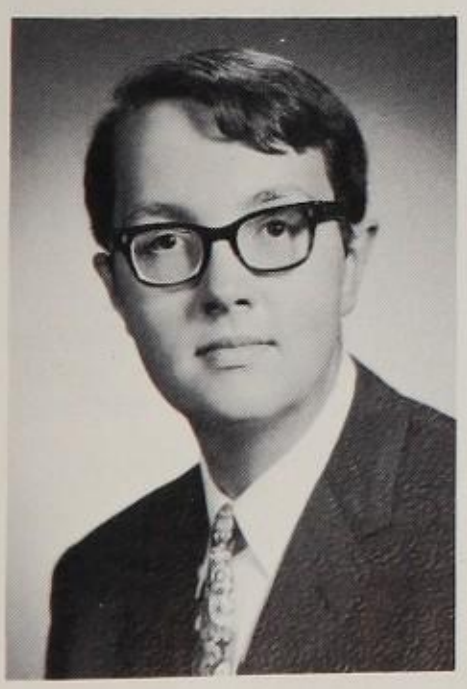
Good humor—the best article of dress in society.

Linda M. Tobey

The art of teaching is to awaken joy in creation and knowledge.

Alan J. Todd

Enthusiasm is faith with a tin can tied to its tail.



Richard Toomey

A man is good when his chief care is to be what he ought to be, that is, naturally human.

Norma Treciak

To grace the skies with her charm and poise.

Diane, Best wishes always to a real sweet girl. Remember our great bookkeeping class? Love, Millie

Mildred L. Trippeda

Life is to fortified by many friendships.
To love and to be loved is the greatest happiness of existence.

Barbara L. Tucker

Loveliness needs not the foreign aid of ornament,
But is, when unadorned, adorned most.

Richard E. Turi

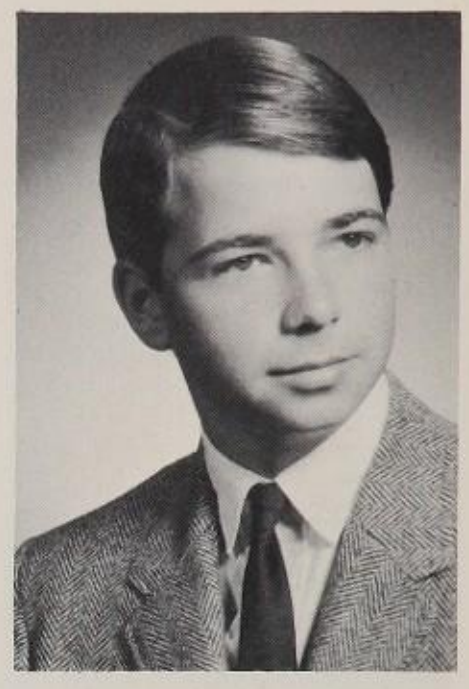
Good deeds speak for themselves.

Deborah J. Turpan

One can't help but glow in the radiance of her smile.

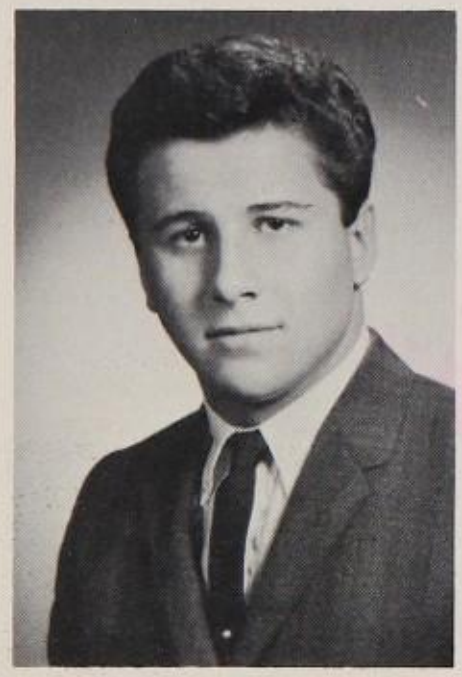
Michele Uchitel

A morn of bright carnations did overspread her face.



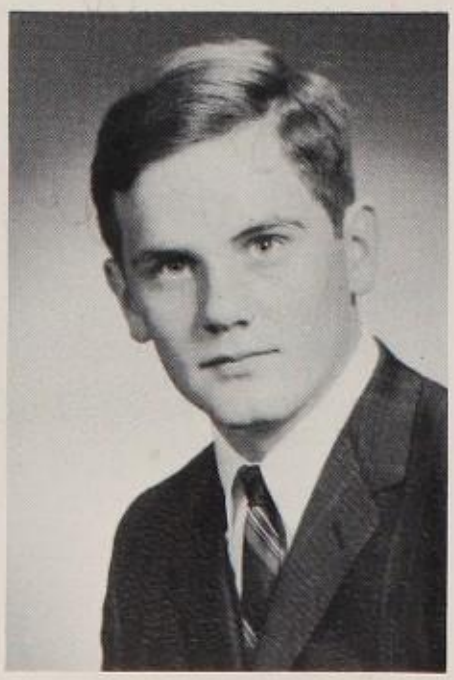
Howard S. Urbach

His is a perpetual fountain of good sense.



Charles Vaccaro

One thing better than success is to be worthy of success.

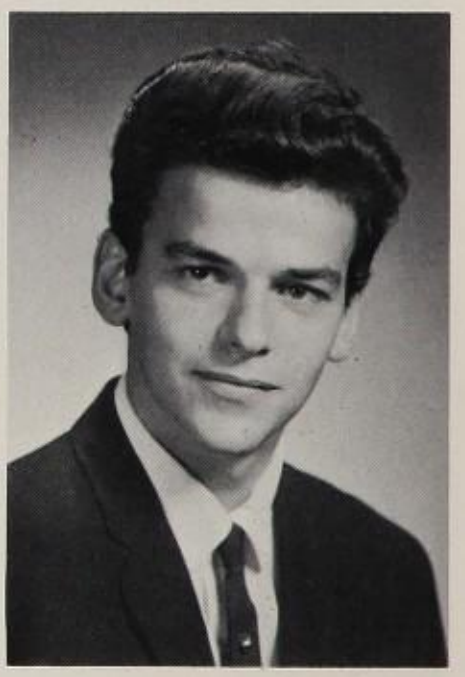


Antonie Van Der Have

The great end of life is not knowledge, but action.

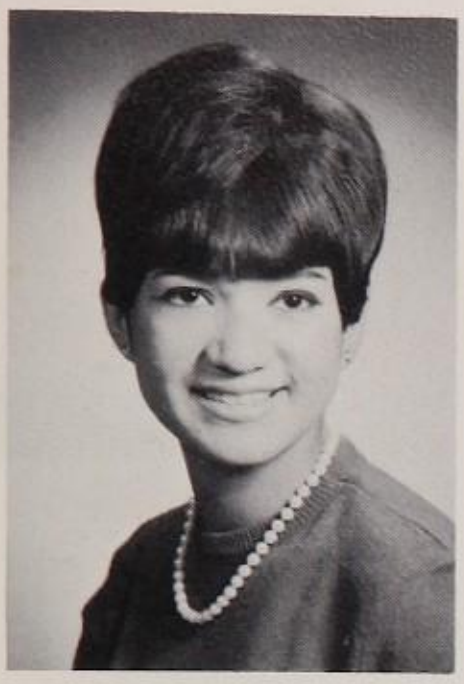
Gerald Van Der Have

There is no surer bond of friendship than an identity and community of ideas and tastes.



Jeffrey G. Van Slyke

Worth, courage, honor, these indeed your sustenance and birthright are.

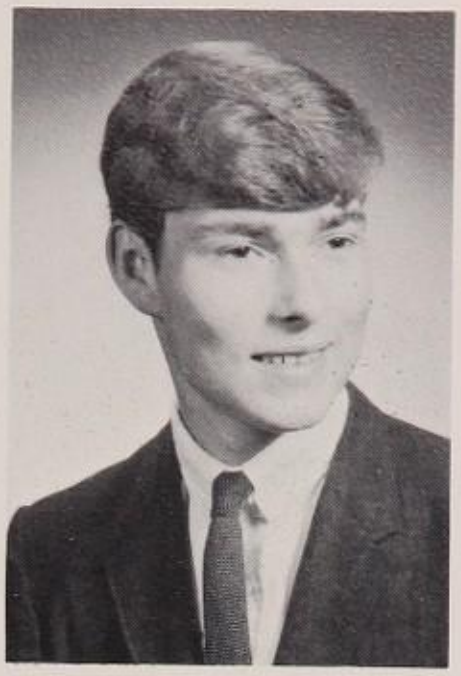


Evelyn Vega

To have a friend is to have one of the sweetest gifts that life can bring.

Lawrence L. Vincent

The only excuse for war is that we may live in peace unharmed.



Wayne J. Vincentz

I'm called away by particular business. But I leave my character behind me.

Kenneth R. Vogel

The passionate love of Right,
The burning hate of Wrong.

Arnold Waldstein

To reach inside, to find oneself, to reason without whim—
A goal, an end so hard to gain, befitting only him.

Miriam Wagenberg

A magic place of dreams where everything is possible and the best is just beginning.

James Warren

In friendship we find nothing false or insincere; everything is straightforward and springs from the heart.

Carole Warshaw

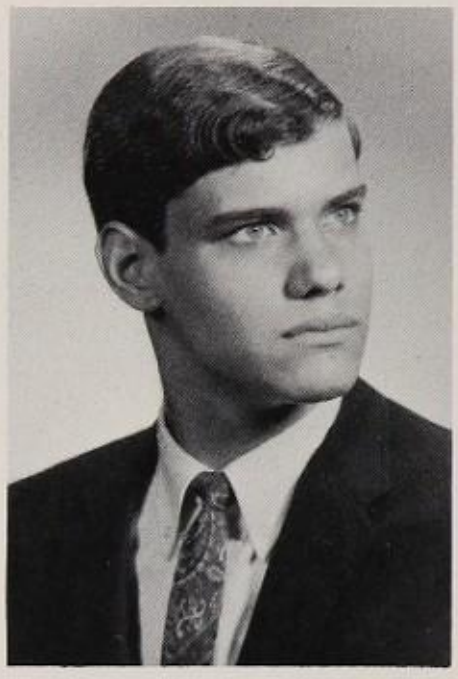
Glory is like a circle in the water, which never ceaseth to enlarge itself.

Charna P. Wasserman

He that is of merry heart hath a continual feast.

Shelley C. Waxman

Youth is not enough. And love is not enough. And success is not enough. And, if we could achieve it, enough would not be enough.



Jean Pierre Webster

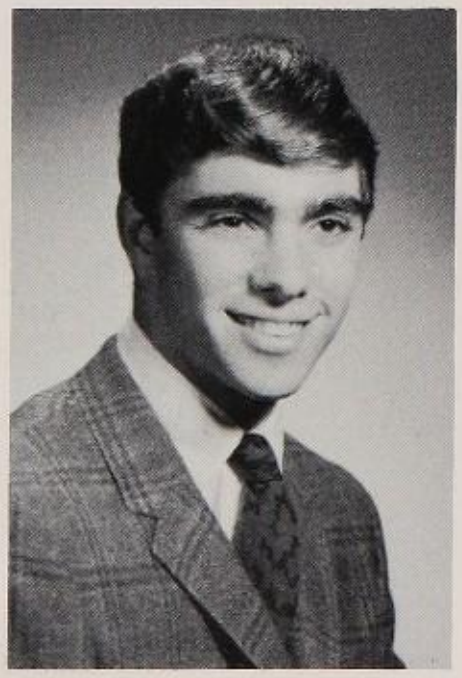
The use of travelling is to regulate imagination by reality and instead of thinking how things may be, to see them as they are.

Carl B. Weinberg

Truth is the secret of eloquence,
It is the highest summit of art and of life.

Thomas M. Weiner

The laws place the safety of all before the safety of individuals.



David Weinrebe

Here was a man to hold against the world,
A man to match the mountains and the sea.

TO THE CLASS OF 1967:

Our last year at Teaneck High School is quickly drawing to a close, and as we think back we can remember many wonderful events which we have enjoyed. In later years, 1967 will mean the great time at the Senior Prom, the sights of Washington, D.C., football rallies and the happy times shared with friends.

Next year, and for years to come, we must carry with us the dignity and honor instilled in us by Teaneck High. Whether you continue your education, venture into the world of business, or defend our nation, be proud you were a graduate of Teaneck High School. It gave you the tools with which to go into the world, as all skilled craftmen do. Use these tools well.

Our Senior year has been filled with happiness and heartbreak, success and failure, and yet we have weathered all situations. This year, after 38 years, Miss Helen B. Hill leaves her "Castle on the Hill." It is a sad moment for Teaneck High. Everyone who has had the pleasure and honor of knowing her will feel the loss.

We wish to thank our devoted sponsors, Mr. Gilfone and Mrs. Curry for all their time and effort towards making this the greatest Senior Class ever. We also thank the fine staff of teachers and coaches for their time and devotion in helping to make us what we are.

For the rest of your life, when someone asks you "where did you go to high school," stand a little taller and say proudly, "Teaneck High School, class of 1967."

Very Sincerely,

JEFF FERNHOFF—President of Class of 1967

CLASS OF 1969

The Class of 1969 would like to thank the Class of 1967 for the fine example of leadership, cooperation, and school spirit which they have set for us.

Our class activities have been very successful this year. 6T9 sweatshirts and jerseys were sold. We held the traditional sophomore spring dance. And, of course, our biggest project was simply becoming a part of Teaneck High School. We are proud of the spirit shown by the members of our class in support of the events we organized.

We, the members of the Class of '69 would like to wish the graduating Class of '67 great, great luck and happiness in the future.

CLASS OF 1968

TO THE CLASS OF 1967:

Upon your graduation we extend to you our most sincere congratulations. All your efforts of the past three years surely now must seem worthwhile, completed by a pride which seems to have set no bounds. You have set high standards in all phases of high school life and only a diligent effort by the classes which follow can equal them, much less surpass them.

We feel honored to have been preceded by you and hope that your example will serve as added incentive in our desire to fill adequately the position of Senior Class next year.

Once again may we extend to you our congratulations and add our best wishes for success in each of your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

THE CLASS OF 1968

Although not having enjoyed as much success as in past years, the Teaneck booters, under the able direction of Coach Powley, finished third in the N.N.J.I.L., with a 9-2-5 record.

Led by all-county captain Duane Brown, the team showed the fine competitive spirit typical of all Teaneck teams. Brown set a new school record of 25 goals in one season.

Under the able coaching of Jack Lammers, Teaneck's football team enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in recent years. The team finished second in the N.N.J.I.L., with a record of 5-3. The successful season was climaxed by a crushing 38-6 victory over arch-rival Hackensack. The first victory over the Comets in seven years.

The team's outstanding performers included Murray Bakst, Ed Konsevick, and Sam Halbrecht. Co-captains, Murray Bakst and Ed Konsevick, were selected for the All-League team as was the team's leading point maker, Sam Halbrecht. Murray Bakst was selected for the All-State team at the center position.

The Teaneck grapplers, under coaches Paul Nonas and Floyd Schmid, completed another season of 9 wins and 2 losses. Captain Murray Bakst and Dave Kunis captured titles in the Christmas Tournament while Captain Arnie Waldstein and Bob Willman won District titles. The highlight of the year was Bob Willman's capturing of the New Jersey State Championship in the 177 pound class. The Hi-Way extends its hearty greetings to a fine wrestler and an outstanding coach.

Last year under the capable direction of Paul Nonas, the Teaneck High track te finished first in the N.N.J.I.L.; this year the track team is looking forward to anot highly successful season. Unfortunately, Captain Larry May, one of the top half-mi in the county, was injured before the season began, but he is expected to return a missing only a few meets. The team is quite strong in the distance events with Capt Jim O'Gorman and Ron Latin in the mile and sophomore Howie Gould in the two m run. Leading the field events contingent, are Murray Bakst, in the discus, Jeff Rue and Larry Lippmann in the pole vault, and Rich Lorelli, Clifton Cox, and Bob Aus in the broad jump. In addition, Brian Tarras, Curt Pader and Bob Wallace, look str in the hurdles. New foam rubber pads have been purchased for the high jump and p vault pits, while the runway for the broad jump has been paved in order to aid the tr team in its quest for a second straight championship.

HOWARD MION
Coach

Despite the loss of Steve Siegel, last year's New Jersey High School Champion, the tennis team is looking forward to an excellent season. The team is hoping to improve upon last year's 19-4 record when it finished second in the N.N.J.I.L. and third in the state tournament at Princeton. The primary objective is to stop Ridgewood's unbeaten streak in league play. Early season practices indicate that Coach Howard Mion possesses a strong well-balanced squad. Top candidates for the starting line-up are returning lettermen Gary Kaplan, Howard Lippman, Captain James Steinberg, Barry Neuman, and Mark Kaufman, along with seniors Mike Steuer and Barry Ress, and sophomores Kevin McCarthy and Michael Oremland.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our short, but industrious year, began long before any student entered the halls of Teaneck High. Two of our committees were functioning over the summer and two of our members were attending a Leadership Training Camp. Our initial meeting was held the first week of school, at which time, the officers and members worked to keep the ball rolling.

We have accomplished a great deal in this school year. We have participated in local, county, and state-wide meetings including workshops and discussion groups. We have given aid to the Red Cross, Appalachian Clothing Drive, the Scholarship Fund, and various school organizations. We have instituted: a suggestion box, early elections, senior library passes, an honor cafeteria and juke boxes in the cafeteria.

The Council is proud to have been able to have done what it has, but more than this we are thankful. We are thankful to the entire student body for helping us to fulfill our chartered responsibility, to serve students and the school.

The American Field Service has worked as an organization to foster a closer understanding between the different nations of the world. Members of the A.F.S. Club as well as selected foreign exchange students have shared their experiences in both domestic and international circles.

Each year, Teaneck High School is privileged to participate in the Americans Abroad Program and the Bus Stop weekend. Abby Zurit, chosen as Teaneck High School's A.F.S. representative, is presently living in Lund, Sweden. Teaneck High School is likewise fortunate to have Thippoporn Poonyathalung, or Thip, living in our school community.

As president of American Field Service, I would like to thank all the members of the club and the community for their enthusiasm in acting as cordial hosts and hostesses for our foreign exchange guests.

SONNET

My life is all in colors—each one lies
Atop another, mixing into mud.
The veering shadings of the seas and skies
Combine and boil to violent hues of blood.
(The weedy blacks and browns of ancient tweeds,
The mossy greens of books interred in shelves,
The tarnished gold of wind among the reeds,
The gaudy reddish glow within ourselves,
The sneaky, sleek maroon of woollen beds,
The dirty white of tarpits smeared with chalk,
The fatal grey of ages' bowing heads,
The worthless tan of all our loveless talk.)
And when my eyes, ascorched, desert the sight
I wish that life were always black and white.

Wendy Wipprecht

NIGHT ON THE BEACH, ALONE

The sea is dark but for ribbons of white, the waves.
The sky too lacks any hint of light or color.
The air is like a blanket, enfolding me in a heavy mist.
The sand still retains its warmth from the day's sun.
Quiet! Free from the mob of locusts
Who litter and then leave
(Except for the sound of the waves.)

Catherine Kieliszek

ON FEELINGS, THOUGHT, AND LIFE

There is nothing so ephemeral as an emotion.
No sooner does a feeling come than it is lost for all time.
There is nothing so obscure, so intangible, as a sensation.
It is a paradox that one should try to put one on paper.
An emotion I mean.
No, there is nothing so transient as a feeling.

There is nothing so ephemeral as thought.
No sooner does one come than it is lost for all time.
There is nothing so inscrutable, so abstract, as a notion.
Strange that one might be offered a penny for one.
A thought I mean.
No, there is nothing so fleeting as a thought.

There is nothing so swift and short as life.
No sooner does one have youth in his palm than he is old.
There is nothing so abstract, so inscrutable as a life,
For life is an experience of emotions and thoughts.
No, there is nothing so ephemeral as a life.

MERRY-GO-BERRY FOREVER

This page is dedicated to an idea. It is so profound that there is not enough space on this page to go into it in great detail; as a matter of fact, in any detail. Many of the people mentioned on this illustrious sheet realize the significance of this profound concept. Ask them!

The Colt Awards for the year go to:

1. Barry Neuman: most consistent performance
2. Margie Spiegal: most outstanding performance
3. Steve Baskin: best male performer
4. Burt Boltuch and Lucy Silverberg: best doubles team

March 2, 1967

Presentation of Annual Service Award to Miss Helen B. Hill. Left to Right: Lawrence May, President of Varsity Club; Miss Helen B. Hill, Principal; Mr. Charles C. Gunner, Vice Principal.

What is a friend?
A friend is someone who likes you.
Someone with whom you can really be Yourself, one who appreciates the
Good in you, overlooks the bad in you,
And brings out the best in you.
With a friend you can share a laugh,
A secret, a viewpoint, a success or
A disappointment and a complete
Assortment of problems, large and small.
A friend is someone who understands
Silences as well as words . . . one who is
With you and for you . . . stands by you . . .
Forgives you. One who lifts you up
And never lets you down . . . and who makes
You feel it's a pretty nice old world
After all. How would we know so well?
Because we have found such friendships
In each other.
